YES, A FEW COINS WERE RETURNED UNDER OUR POLICY OF "UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE," WHERE A LOT CAN BE RETURNED FOR ANY REASON WITH OR WITHOUT OUR PERMISSION. HOWEVER, WE ALSO RECEIVED THE USUAL RAFT OF COMPLIMENTARY LETTERS, SOME OF WHICH WE ARE PLEASED TO QUOTE FROM:

"Too bad that I was not more successful in your sale, but I am very well pleased with the lots that I did get, and for the few that you purchased under my limit bid." — C. R., Boston, Mass.

"Nice lots, and varieties as described. (So often not so.) Be sure I receive the Price list." — A.N.H., White Lake, S. D.

"I have been collecting coins since I married in 1941. . . . In all these 22 years I purchased coins from big and small dealers; from nationally and internationally known collectors and dealers. In 1941 and thru these many years, and today, your coins, your grading, integrity, and honesty, find no equal with other dealers. You are definitely tops, in all respects, numismatically." — C.J.L., Lawrence, Kansas

"I am sending my check herewith in payment of the enclosed invoice. This is a really nice coin and I appreciate your executing my bid for it. It is also refreshing to find that at least one firm still believes in accurate grading." — P.Y.R., Fairfield, Conn.

"Please excuse the delay in getting this check to you, particularly because you were good enough to give me reduced prices after I had bid too high. I wish I had bid higher on a great many others I needed. . . as your grading is the most honest of any auction I have bid on." — G.Y.D., Houston, Texas

"It is nice to order uncirculated coins and receive uncirculated coins and not extra fine." — F.J.R., Indianapolis, Ind.

"May I congratulate you once again on the accurate and detailed descriptions given in your catalogues? The meticulous care shown in describing a coin to the smallest detail is very much appreciated, especially by one submitting a mail bid." — E.V.J., Lexington, Ky.

THERE ARE OTHERS — QUITE A FEW OF THEM. SOME OF THE COMMENTS WERE VERBAL, AND CONCERNED THEMSELVES WITH OUR PURCHASE OF LOT 36 for $160, AGAINST A $325 BID, OR THE PURCHASE OF LOT 466 FOR $875, AGAINST A $1500 BID.

AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons seventeen years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The Association was founded in 1891, and has about 25,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $11.00 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $6.00. Nonmember subscriptions, $7.50. Single copy, 75¢. For application blanks or other information, write to the Executive Secretary, 3520 No. 7th Street, Phoenix, Ariz. 85014.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 144 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts, which are sent at the owner's risk, and other correspondence calling for a reply must be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes. Opinions expressed in articles published in The Numismatist are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the American Numismatic Association or the Editor.

NATURE PRINTING ON COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL CURRENCY

By

ERIC P. NEWMAN, A.N.A. No. 4624

FOR an invention by Benjamin Franklin to be recognized first in 1963 is astonishing enough, since his accomplishments always have been carefully researched. For paper currency printing to have been the field in which Franklin's unrecognized invention was developed is more surprising, since the general public in the colonial era and numismatists ever since have had examples of Franklin's paper money readily available for study. For employment of an invention in printing to be confined virtually to paper money of early America is even stranger. Yet there is a sound reason for such a printing invention by Franklin to have been unrecognized and therefore unappreciated . . . Franklin intended it to be a numismatic secret.

Numismatists long have noticed leaves as the principal decoration on the reverse of many types of American colonial and Continental Currency.<sup>1</sup> These leaf reproductions are found on many of the pre-Revolutionary and Revolutionary paper money issues of Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and the Continental Congress, all of which will be considered in this monograph. Yet numismatic literature is devoid of information on the source or the reason for the continued use of the leaf illustrations. No botanical comment concerning the leaves has been found. It has been mentioned with respect to Continental Currency that leaf designs were used to make counterfeiting more difficult,<sup>2</sup> but no basis for that assertion has been promulgated which does not apply equally to any other complex design. The only hint that some unusual technique was used for leaf prints on currency was a wild speculation by W. A. Dwiggins in 1944 that Franklin pressed leaves into a wood block and printed the image from the intaglio with the leaf elements appearing white.<sup>3</sup> This was illogical and impossible but an inspired thought.

While preparing an exhibition of international floral art at the Philadelphia Museum of Art in the spring of 1963, the exhibition and catalog of which were entitled "A World of Flowers: Paintings and Prints," Whitfield J. Bell Jr., associate librarian of the American Philosophical Society, and former associate editor of The Papers of Benjamin Franklin, noted that leaf imprints were to be found on American colonial currency and in a 1737 booklet printed by Benjamin Franklin. Carl Ziggrosser, the museum's curator of prints, and his associate, Kneeland McNulty, undertook an investigation of this unrecorded form of nature printing, their findings being published in the catalog of the exhibition.<sup>4</sup> The search to discover the actual method employed by Franklin continued, with the active help of Dr. Bell, and the author was encouraged by McNulty to undertake a broad numismatic and process study. Related botanical investigation was performed by George H. M. Lawrence and Willem Margadant, of the Hunt Botanical Library in Pittsburgh, and by the late Robert E. Woodson Jr., of Washington University in St. Louis. Edwin Wolf II, of the Library Company of Philadelphia, called attention to unpublished historical material. C. ### Nature Printing

Nature printing is the reproduction of an identical image of an object of nature, directly from the object itself. Children at school undertake such work in its simplest form by applying ink to one or both surfaces of a leaf and pressing a piece of paper against the leaf by hand or with an instrument such as a roller. The ink transfers from the stem, veins, and other high portions of the leaf, leaving a mirror image. Both sides may be readily reproduced at one time. This type of nature printing was known to Leonardo da Vinci, an illustration of a sage leaf being included and the process explained in Codex Atlanticus (1490-1505).<sup>5</sup> Improvement in the technique of such printing enabled J. H. Kniphof in 1733 to use nature printing for botanical books, but each successive print from a plant or leaf deteriorated in quality until a new specimen had to be substituted. Since only a few books were to be produced, the process served its purpose but was not satisfactory for production printing.<sup>6</sup>

It was stated by the great Swedish botanist, Carl Linnaeus, in Philosophia Botanica (1751) that a man named Hesselius made leaf prints in America in 1707. Peter Kalm, a friend of both men, seems to have been the source of the information. However, the artist, Gustav Hesselius did not arrive in Delaware until 1711 and the erroneous 1707 date must have resulted from a scrivener's error. Although no botanical nature printing by Hesselius is known, an example of such work by Francis Daniel Pastorius, who died in Philadelphia in 1719, does exist in the collection of the Library Company of Philadelphia and lends support to the general import of the comment by Linnaeus. These books contain ink prints of feathers and woven cloth as well as those of leaves and plants.<sup>7</sup> His prints were valued highly, as indicated by an advertisement in The Pennsylvania Gazette (Franklin's newspaper) for April 26, 1733, offering a reward for a lost "Sheet and a half of Prints of Leaves, being part of a compleat Set."

Paper Currency Printing Methods

The various methods of printing paper currency in America beginning in 1690, require analysis in order to appreciate Franklin's contribution of nature printing to the development of the printing art. Some early American paper currency was engraved on copper, the text and the ornamentation being cut by hand into the metal plate. One plate often contained several different denominations. Ink was applied to the intaglio plate, the surface wiped clean, and the paper pressed against the plate.

Other early American paper currency was printed in relief from a combination of type, ornaments, and pictorials. Individual printing type and type size ornaments were imported from Europe. These were produced by being cast in metal molds. Decorative borders, insignia, non-standard ornaments, and pictorials were produced in America by engraving the design into metal, from which multiple castings could be made, or produced directly as woodcuts or original metal blocks. All of the elements were assembled and squeezed tight with wood furniture and locked into a printer's chase. Ink applied directly to the surface of such a form made the printing process simpler and easier than printing from an intaglio plate.

Some colonies changed from intaglio printing to printing in relief; others used only printing in relief, and still others used both. During the American Revolution, printing in relief was the most commonly employed method for producing paper money.

Franklin gained experience in casting type, ornaments, and insignia, as soon as he returned from England to Philadelphia on October 11, 1726. He "had seen types cast at James's in London."<sup>8</sup> He might have known of experiments by William Ged, a Scotch gunsmith, who proposed that an entire page of text might be printed from one solid type metal casting.<sup>9</sup> This was accomplished by making a plaster negative from a form composed of set type, and then pouring type metal into the plaster mold to cast a stereo-type. This experiment was abandoned in England in 1730 as impractical, but was the forerunner of stereotyping.

Franklin was aware that colonial paper money, whether printed in relief or from intaglio plates, had been extensively and cleverly counterfeited. Shortly after Franklin had been discharged from Samuel Keimer's printing shop in Philadelphia, the printing of New Jersey paper money pursuant to the law passed February 10, 1728, was open for contract. Keimer knew Franklin's skill was needed and was afraid that Andrew Bradford, the other Philadelphia printer (son of William Bradford, the first printer in New York, who printed the early New York currency) would obtain the contract by hiring Franklin. Keimer re-employed Franklin, obtained the contract, and left Franklin in Burlington, New Jersey, to do the work. This was Franklin's first experience in printing currency. For this work Franklin built "a copper-plate press," which apparently was designed both to print in relief from a form of composed type, ornaments, and insignia, as well as to print from an engraved copper plate.<sup>8</sup> Thereafter he printed New Jersey currency through the July 2, 1746, issue.

In 1728, James Franklin, brother of Benjamin, petitioned the Rhode Island assembly to urge that Rhode Island authorize its currency to be printed in relief from ornaments, etc., cast from engraved models instead of being engraved in intaglio on copper plates,<sup>10</sup> but in spite of the previous history of extensive counterfeiting of its engraved currency, Rhode Island continued its customary practices.

Franklin's support of the economic desirability of the general use of paper currency in America took the form of an anonymous pamphlet, printed on April 3, 1729 and entitled "A Modest Inquiry into the Nature and Necessity of a Paper Currency." Because of its convincing effect on the public and on public officials, the Pennsylvania assembly passed an act on May 10, 1729, for further currency to be issued.

Pursuant to the act, currency dated September 15, 1729, was printed by Andrew Bradford, although Franklin erroneously claimed that he received the printing contract. Actually, Franklin received his first Pennsylvania currency printing contract for the issue authorized under the act of February 6, 1731.<sup>11</sup> Either alone, or with David Hall as a partner from 1748 on, Franklin continued as the printer of Pennsylvania paper money through the issue of June 18, 1764. Thereafter, Hall and Sellers, a successor to the Franklin partnership, continued the printing of Pennsylvania currency through 1776.

In 1729 Franklin became the printer of the Delaware paper currency, and either alone or with David Hall as a partner, continued that work for Delaware through the issue of May 31, 1760.

Attribution to Franklin

A nature print of a leaf of the rattlesnake herb was included by Franklin in Poor Richard's Almanac for 1737 (Illustration No. 2).

The first appearance of nature prints on colonial currency is found on the August 10, 1739, Pennsylvania issue "Printed by B. Franklin" (Illustration No. 3). These consist of three blackberry leaves on a sprig and a willow leaf with its stipules. There is no background. A separate cut from the identical negative is found on each known denomination of the issue, although the direction in which the cut faces on the notes varies.

In Delaware notes, leaf prints first appear on the issue of February 28, 1746, and bear Franklin's imprint. Each denomination has different leaf prints.

In New Jersey notes, leaf prints first appear on the issue of July 2, 1746, and on some denominations "Printed by B. Franklin" appears. These leaf prints are of a sage leaf and are identical on each denomination.

Because Poor Richard's Almanac of 1737 and the foregoing currency issues bearing nature prints were first printed by Franklin, he must have been the innovator of the method of printing nature reproductions.

Franklin realized that the most effective way to deter counterfeiters was to force them to engrave a plate for a note printed from type from various fonts, as well as ornaments and pictorials. Counterfeiting by this method was difficult, and the results easy to detect. If a counterfeiter could obtain the various elements for printing in relief, his products would be more deceptive. Even if the counterfeiter could obtain from other sources the same type fonts used on genuine notes, the pictorials and the specially cut ornaments were not obtainable. Franklin cut some ornaments himself for this reason.<sup>8</sup> If the detail of a pictorial was exceedingly difficult, then a counterfeiter would tend to select some easier work, but what one engraver could do another could copy fairly well. Franklin must have realized from Breintnall's leaf prints and otherwise that leaves not only had exceedingly complex detail but also that their internal lines were graduated in thickness. This would make virtually impossible a fine reproduction by engraving. If, therefore, Franklin could keep his nature printing process concealed, he would have a very effective weapon against counterfeiting.

ANCIENT BRITISH COINS

A paper read before the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society
November 5, 1963

The coinage of the peoples of what is now England, before the island was conquered by the Romans, is little known and even less collected in the United States, which is rather a pity in view of the antiquarian interest which the series possesses. Nevertheless, the very obscurity of this series permits me to generalize in the course of this paper, and encourages me to think that such errors of omission and commission as it may contain may escape undetected.

Those of us who collect the coins of Great Britain, or who have studied the history of that country, are likely to think in terms of historical periods, as though a wall had been erected before and after each. The fallacy of this thinking is perfectly obvious, when one considers that the money of Carthage and of Rome alike had economic and artistic roots in the coins of the Greeks, and that the currencies of the Byzantines and Franks were but two continuations of the Roman system. History is a flowing continuity, unbroken by the arbitrary dams which are indicated in our textbooks.

The period which we are considering is relatively brief, compared with the Roman occupation or the Saxon settlements, beginning sometime in the second century B.C. and continuing to the Roman conquests of 43 to about 80 A.D. Yet the native peoples had the misfortune to leave us no written records; like the Philistines, the Carthaginians and the more modern Aztecs and Incas, our knowledge is based chiefly upon the writings of the enemies who overcame them. As a result, these accounts are biased and sketchy, and leave many gaps which we must fill by conjecture. It is interesting that the coins have done more than a little to fill in some of the blanks.

It is believed that several of the great waves of migration which emerged from the unknown areas of Germany or western Asia, and which eventually overwhelmed the Roman Empire, reached Great Britain. Such names as Celts, Gaels and Brythons (or Britons) are applied to them, and they came in waves at long intervals, the later conquering or pushing back the earlier and more settled peoples. Whatever the names of these waves, and wherever their origins, our definite knowledge begins with the two raids of Julius Caesar in 55 and 54 B.C.

The immensely ambitious Caesar, leading a first-rate military force, had embarked upon the conquest and pacification of Gaul, the modern areas of France and the Low Countries lying between the Rhine and the Pyrenees. As his campaign progressed, he was increasingly annoyed by aid, in the form of reinforcements, supplies and shelter, which his Gallic enemies received from their kinsmen across the Channel in the island which Romans called Britannia. In order to punish such intervention and to prevent its repetition, Caesar led amphibious forces to southeast Britain in two successive years, and after defeating the local tribesmen and briefly occupying a little territory, he withdrew to Gaul with his prisoners. He had not conquered the country, nor had he attempted to do so.

The emperors Augustus and Tiberius, who succeeded him in power, both planned a genuine conquest, but it remained for Claudius to undertake it in 43 A.D. Moving with methodical efficiency, the armies conquered one area after another, and the civil officers followed, to consolidate the new Roman province. For the most part this was effective in imposing the Roman civilization upon the country, although extensive military forces remained active along the Welsh and Scottish borders and in subduing revolts. The last great revolt came in 61 A.D., when the Romans annexed the territory of the Iceni, in east-central Britain, upon the death of their king without male issue. The annexation was most brutal, and the Icenian queen, Boudicca (or Boadicea), led a revolt which spread over half the province and resulted in the massacre of some 70,000 Romans. The Romans eventually won, of course, but milder rule resulted.

The area of "Britain" actually excluded Wales and Cornwall, and extended north through Yorkshire almost into Scotland. Outside of this region were peoples of a lesser degree of culture, perhaps the remnants of the earlier migrations – the Welsh, the Picts, the Scots. We are not concerned with them, for they produced no coins.

Within Britain itself, we have two groups of tribes. The first group was located in the southeast, and was closely related to the peoples of western Gaul. It was these tribes, which we can call the Belgic group, which had helped their kinsmen oppose Caesar, and they had long been more or less influenced by Greek and Roman traders. These were the Cantii, the Atrebatas and their allies, the Regni, the Trinovantes and the Catuvellauni. The latter became the dominant tribe through conquest, and one of its conquests provided a pretext for the final Roman invasion.

Outside of the area occupied by the Belgic peoples were other tribes – the Durotriges, the Dobuni, the Coritani, the Iceni and the Brigantes – which probably were of the same racial stock but had a less-developed culture, most likely because they were more remote from Gaul in their location. The boundaries of the tribal territories cannot be precisely determined today, and some areas may have been held by no one tribe.

The people definitely were not savages, although less advanced than the Mediterranean populations. The tribes, as indicated above and on the map, were probably confederacies of tribal groups, and their "kings" could be more accurately called "chiefs". If an analogy is needed, perhaps we can refer to the tribes and confederacies of the North American Indians.

The coins which these peoples produced can be traced, in type, to Greek and Roman prototypes. Thus the British currency is not a separate subject, a separate pool so to speak, but rather an eddy or backwater in the main stream of ancient numismatics.

One of the famous coins of the ancient world was the beautiful stater of Philip of Macedon, father of Alexander the Great, which bears a head of Apollo and either a chariot or a horseman. There is little doubt that many of the earlier coins attempt to imitate this piece of gold, or to imitate the imitations which were made in Gaul. It was long believed that such coins reached Gaul through traders; there appears to be later evidence that the Romans, having pillaged the treasuries of Greece, used the huge quantities of gold staters to pay their frontier forces in the West.

Whatever the route or method, the British (and Gallic) coins display a crude laureate head upon one side, and a horse – without chariot or rider – upon the other. As time passed, the designs evolved into something different. The head becomes a conventionalized design, perhaps of leaves, without resemblance to human portraiture. The horse continues, surrounded by non-descript objects which probably have no significance as symbols. None of these coins bears an inscription, and the areas of their origin can be assumed only upon the basis of finds.

Later coins are inscribed with the names of rulers, in more or less abbreviated form, and occasionally with a place name, also abbreviated. Often these are neatly done, frequently they are imitative of Roman rather than Greek types, and perhaps they were the work of Gallic or Roman-trained workmen rather than of British artisans. These come from the so-called Belgic tribes, or at least the best of them do, and have gone a long way to add to and to clarify our earlier knowledge of the people who used them.

For example, we know the names of twelve British kings and queens from Roman writings which have survived to our time. But seven of this number are represented by attributable coins. Yet there are at least twenty-two others whose names we know, in whole or in part, solely from coins, and whose probable territories we can surmise from the locations of finds. Upon this basis, Derek Allen has been able to attempt a reconstruction of the Belgic dynasties and to conjecture the probable dates of issue.

Numismatists who like puzzles will enjoy the study of these relics of a well-nigh forgotten time, while those who seek precise data on their coins will despair of collecting them. This, of course, is true of almost all ancient coinages. Price will be a deterrent to many collectors, for the commonest British coins by far are the gold pieces. (Next commonest are the bronze and tin coins, with the silver occurring least frequently.)

There is no need, however, for the numismatist to feel that in collecting the British series he is travelling upon a road which is wholly without signs or direction markers. Several excellent works on the subject exist. The outstanding book is The Coins of the Ancient Britons, by Sir Arthur Evans, (London, 1884; supplement, London, 1890) who achieved fame for his work at Mycenae and in Crete. Later writers have built upon the foundation of Evans' work, and some, like Derek Allen, in his The Belgic Dynasties of Britain and Their Coins (Oxford, 1944) have revised our historical thinking upon numismatic evidence. — W. ### SHAKESPEARE ANNIVERSARY MEDAL

The trustees of Shakespeare's Birthplace are sponsoring an official medal to commemorate the four hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare's birth in 1964. The medal was designed by eminent medallic sculptor, Paul Vincze, F.R.B.S.

Since the first Shakespeare festival at Stratford-upon-Avon in 1769, Shakespeare medals have been produced to mark each successive major festival occasion. The portrait of Shakespeare on the 1964 medal is not based on any particular representation of the poet but was conceived by the sculptor after studying several of the well known portraits, including the engraving in the First Folio and the bust in Stratford Parish Church. The reverse is an allegorical scene showing one of the Muses holding the masks of comedy and tragedy, with a kneeling figure symbolizing the new generation holding a torch and a volume representing the works of Shakespeare.

Hungarian born Paul Vincze lives and works in Chelsea. Internationally famous as a designer of coins and medals, he has recently completed a medal of the Pope.

The medal is available in the following sizes and metals:

Metal	2 1/4" Diameter	1 1/2" Diameter	1 1/4" Diameter*
Bronze .....	$ 6.50	$ 3.00
Sterling silver .....	14.50	7.50	$ 4.50
Fine silver ..... (5,000)	20.00	(5,000) 10.00	(5,000) 6.50
Gold, 9 ct. ....	110.00	50.00	25.00
Gold, 18 ct. ....	240.00	100.00	60.00
Gold, 22 ct. .... (250)	350.00	(1,000) 125.00	(1,000) 100.00
Platinum ..... (50)	420.00	(100) 200.00	(100) 128.00

The numerals in brackets show the limited numbers to be struck. All gold medals are hall marked. Limited edition pieces will be accompanied by certificates attesting to the serial number. If desired, padded velveteen cases may be obtained for $1.50 each in sizes 1 1/4" and 1 1/2" and $2.00 for the 2 1/4" size. It has been decided that during the festival year all the 22 ct. gold pieces (the limited edition) will be struck in pure gold. Orders, accompanied by remittance, should be directed to Levi Fox, Director, Shakespeare Birthplace Trust, Stratford-upon-Avon, England.

Museum Tours

A.N.A. CLEVELAND CONVENTION

Members and visitors attending the Cleveland Convention, August 19-22, will have the opportunity to tour a number of outstanding museums, with a broad range of numismatic and other interests.

The Cleveland Museum of Art, currently acclaimed in a special issue of Apollo magazine as one of the great privately-supported museums of the world, is notable in that it covers every phase of art, in every era. There are outstanding collections of Egyptian, Persian, classical Greek, Roman, Sasanian, Near Eastern, Oriental, mediaeval and modern European, Aztec and Mayan, Polynesian and American works of art covering the whole span of man's activities.

In addition to the expected paintings, sculpture and ceramics, the museum's collections include all artifacts and even architectural elements in which the artistry of man plays a part. The Severance collection of arms and armor; the Guelph treasure of early mediaeval church relics and precious gold-and-gem-set objects; French and Colonial furniture settings; English and American silver; a superlatively beautiful tile-set facade of an early mosque; a fantastic collection of pre-Columbian gold art objects; portions of mediaeval monasteries and stained glass windows; ancient Greek coins and English regal portrait gold; — these are but a few of the many groups which can be seen nowhere else in such choice diversity.

The Western Reserve Historical Society museum will be another "must" stop for the visitor, with rich visual displays of attraction for any interest. The Norton Collection of Napoleonic material displays uniforms, arms, personal objects of the "Little Corporal," medals and jewelry, unique documents, and so on. Transportation, Indian material, World War I, medals and decorations, glassware and china, clocks, and early Americana are but a few of the subjects covered, and a special convention display will be featured in the Coin & Stamp room.

The Cleveland Museum of Natural History is nearby in its new home, with outstandingly imaginative displays of geology, mineralogy, paleontology, animals and birds, precious gems, Indian and Eskimo material, and kindred exhibits of great beauty.

For the medically minded, the world-famous Cleveland Health Museum will be of special interest, as will be the Museum of Historical Medicine on the Western Reserve University campus.

None of the youngsters will want to miss the Cleveland Zoo, with all the expected complement of animals, as well as a number of rare or unique specimens. In the new Bird House, an unusual arrangement allows the visitor to view a great variety of exotic and tropical birds close at hand. The Cleveland Aquarium, at another location, has a remarkable display of fish in general, as well as many unusual varieties of special interest to the fancier-collector.

Collectors with "far-out" coins or medals will want to check the amazing reference resources of the John White Collection of the famous Cleveland Public Library. In addition to an exhaustive numismatic reference section, this collection includes volumes and display objects — much unique material — on anthropology, games, graphic arts, etc.

Yes, Cleveland offers much to the visitor, and we are sure that many will want to spend more than the four official days of the convention here. After all, those four days will be packed with special convention activities, so if at all possible plan to have some extra time in Cleveland. Those who have not yet secured room reservations at the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel, Public Square, Cleveland, Ohio 44113, are urged to do so promptly. While the entire hotel has been reserved for the annual convention, the choice of rooms will narrow and it is likely that latecomers will have to be accommodated at other downtown hotels in view of the large attendance anticipated.

FLASH. As we go to press, word has been received that the Bureau of the Mint already has orders for 1964 proof sets up to its yearly capacity to produce them. No more orders will be accepted.

NOTES & QUERIES

Kennedy Half Dollar

President Lyndon Johnson pushed through Congress his request for authority to replace the Franklin half dollar with one bearing the portrait of the late President Kennedy. The request came on December 10, a bill passed the House on December 17, and the Senate December 18. The new coin will be struck after January 1, 1964.

What happens to Benjamin Franklin is anybody's guess, except we know his image will no longer appear on our half dollar.

Last Public Law Signed By JFK Calls for ILGWU Medal

The last public law approved by the late President John F. Kennedy authorizes a medal to be struck at the Philadelphia mint for the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union Health Center. On November 20, just two days before his assassination, he signed the above bill and another calling for a commemorative medal for Indiana's 150th anniversary. Earlier, on October 16, he signed into law Congressional legislation asking that the mint strike medals in commemoration of the centennial of Nevada's statehood, and for the 250th anniversary of Padre Junipero Serra's birth.

Two other commemorative medal bills, Senate 879 (150th anniversary of the Battle of Lake Erie) and Senate 2079 (Federal Hall National Memorial) have not passed to date. A House bill seeking the minting of a medal honoring the bicentennial of St. Louis, Mo. is also under consideration.

Cal State's Convention

As host to the thirty-third semi-annual convention of California State Numismatic Association, the Santa Barbara Coin Club feels entitled to take a bow. The weather was about perfect, record crowds attended the four day event on November 7-10, seventy-five bourse dealers went away happy and wanting to come back next year, and some of the finest exhibits seen in Southern California in recent years were shown. On Friday, a group of women enjoyed a garden tour of three homes in and near the city, and the evening educational forum featured talks by Federico Claveria and Abe Kosoff. The Saturday evening banquet at El Paseo restaurant featured a prime rib dinner, Hawaiian dancing girls, and the presentation of exhibit awards to the following: U.S. coins — Elghus James, Gwendolyn Sentis, and George Orender and Albertus Hoogeveen (tied for third); modern foreign coins — Gwendolyn Sentis, Ben Adams, and Clay Read and Walter A. Libbey (tied for third); substitute money — Thelma M. Case, Virginia Culver, and R. B. Carter; paper money — Herbert H. Seidler, Rudy Gjurovich, and S. Everett Phillips; medals — Mae Pearl Johnson, and Dan Harley; miscellaneous — Sylvia Novack, and Eugene Cooper; juniors — Patty Boone; dealers — Harvey L. Rose, Earle T. Myers, and Harry Kaplun. Special awards were presented to R. B. Carter for his exhibit called "Education in Numismatic Counterfeits," and to Henry H. Clifford for his display of "Pioneer Gold of the West." Sylvia Novack won the best-in-show honor with her display of Columbian Exposition material. Ray Bower and William Wisslead had fine noncompetitive exhibits. — GWEN SENTIS, Sec., Host Club

Visits George Tilden, A.N.A. Member No. 14

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

Recently I gave a talk at the Tri-County Coin Club of Warren, Mass., at the tenth anniversary dinner. On the way to the lecture, my partner and I stopped in Northboro, Mass., at the antique shop of George Tilden. He is 90 years young, stands straight, has a remarkable memory. We discussed happenings of many years ago in numismatics. He told me his A.N.A. number is 14 and showed me his twenty-five year and fifty year medals.

He does very little with coins at the moment, but has a remarkable stock of glass and antiques. He enjoyed talking about the early days and am sure that he would be happy to be in touch with A.N.A. members.

—MAURICE M. GOULD

Stamps as Money

MRH 309 Garner
Champaign, Ill.

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

Since writing "The Use of Stamps as Money" (Numismatist, November, 1963) I have come across an Austrian encased stamp which is not listed. This is a 5 heller yellow green, issue of 1919 (Scott 201), issued by the New Free Press of Vienna. — ROBERT D. LEONARD, JR.

Another Successful Penn-Ohio Convention

All that it takes to make a fine numismatic show could be found at the October 25-27 Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs fall convention at the Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. The Toledo Coin Club was host, and credit for the very fine affair goes to Chairman D. L. Stoner, Co-Chairman E. A. Nowak and their committee chairmen. Among the seventy-five bourse dealers could be found a great variety of coins, tokens, medals, odd and curious pieces — just about anything, in fact, of interest to the numismatist, collector or investor. In the exhibit room were displays including U. S. and foreign coins, medals, tokens, paper money, articles used as money, jewelry and century old pieces made from money. The beauty of the exhibits in itself was an attraction. More than five hundred lots were auctioned by the Money Shop of Cleveland Heights, with good attendance and heavy buying. Tours of the Toledo Museum of Art and of historical spots in the Maumee Valley, including the site of Fort Industry, Oliver House, Fort Miami and Fort Meigs, with luncheon at old Plantation Inn, afforded fine entertainment for the women. Following the close of the bourse and exhibits Saturday evening, a banquet was served in the Crystal Room, with the Reverend Albert Klein of Newton Falls as master of ceremonies. Rear Admiral Dodson, a past president of A.N.A., and Mrs. Dodson were honored guests.

Exhibit awards were presented as follows: George Hatie came up with first in ancient coins, second in U. S. coins and third in paper money; James Kirkwood won first in paper money and tied with Ernest Cooke for second place in tokens and medals; other first place winners were James G. Johnson in tokens and medals, Ted Verholdt in U. S. coins, Louis Nakos in gold, Anthony Olszewski in foreign coins, and Ruth V. Hammel with her miscellaneous display of coin jewelry, love tokens and other items made of coins. Other second place winners were Albert M. Dinder, gold coins, and William Jacka, miscellaneous. Third place in U. S. coins was a tie between Everett Snapp and Dr. Ralph S. Maurer. Another third place tie was between Vic Dorsek and Harold L. Deter in foreign coins. Third in miscellaneous went to J. M. Booth. Penn-Ohio donates the best-of-show award each year in the name of one of its past presidents. The name of C. T. Bolus, president in 1949, was engraved on this trophy which was won by Albert Schafer of Berea with a display of tokens and medals. — L. M. CADDY, Sec.

Third of a Ton Silver Ball To Make 20,000 Nevada Medals

Taking a page from the history of its silver miners of a century ago, the

Nevada Centennial Commission converted ten $1,552 silver ingots into a 629-pound "Panamint Ball" for delivery of the metal to the Philadelphia mint. A century ago the Panamint Mining Co. cast silver at the mines into 750-pound balls to thwart thieves during the trip to the mint. More modern security measures were taken, of course, during the 1963 truck trip from Carson City to Philadelphia.

Under the direction of Roy B. Hardy, chairman of the Centennial Commemorative Medallion Committee, and Honorary Co-Chairman Eva B. Adams, Director of the Mint, designs for the official centennial medallions were produced by Jack Cooney, artist for the Nevada State Highway Dept. The Committee is especially proud that this issue will be made from native silver and under the immediate supervision of Miss Adams, native Nevadan.

The medals are to be of a size between that of a half dollar and a silver dollar. The price has not been announced, nor has the date been set for release of the commemorative, but it is expected that Nevada banks will work with the Committee on their distribution and that Nevadans will have priority in acquiring them.

Shop Talk

Harry Leder bought the coin shop at 111 West 46th St., New York City, from Tom Wass last fall and is in business there under his own name. Harry invites all collectors and dealers to stop in for a visit whenever they are in the city.

Canadian Bank Note Information Needed

Persons having knowledge of notes of the following banks are asked to contact Ronald A. Greene, 2538 Kilgarry Pl., Victoria, B. C., Canada: Bank of British Columbia; Bank of British North America (only notes issued at B. C. points); Bank of Vancouver; and Macdonald & Co., Victoria. Those who have supplied information previously on notes of Macdonald & Co. need not repeat it. Other than museums, etc., names of owners will not be publicized. Besides bank notes, knowledge of other paper money, scrip, card money, and similar items will be appreciated. All persons responding will be advised of any outcome of this project.

St. Petersburg Beach Site Of Criswell's Money Museum

Numismatists and students traveling to Florida or vacationing there now have an added attraction in St. Petersburg Beach. Grover C. Criswell, Jr., and Irving Moskovitz, nationally known collectors and exhibitors, have renovated a former bank building and created a museum for their million dollar collections. In addition to the well known Confederate paper money and gold coin collections, visitors may view odd and curious monies, ancient coins and historic currency of all states of the Union. Protection of the fabulous exhibits is entrusted to sergeant majors from both the Union and Confederate "armies," and to an elaborate alarm system which, according to Criswell, "will snap at an interloper almost as soon as he gets larceny on his mind."

If You Own a Whitman Brown Book - Read This

The Convention of International Numismatics, the event that numismatic progress has demanded, will open for three days on June 19 in the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel. Assuring its success, besides the location on the "Fifth Avenue of the West," is this list of sponsoring organizations: Azteca Society of Los Angeles, California Exonomist Society, California Foreign Coin Club, International Numismatic Society of San Diego, Society for International Numismatics of Santa Monica, and Southern California Ancient Numismatic Society.

The hotel is situated in a 23-acre garden of sunland; has the ultimate in convention facilities, such as complete air conditioning and spacious public rooms; and is practically a city in itself with seven restaurants, drug store and shops, a post office and a bank. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel, 3400 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90005.

The convention will begin at 10 a.m. Friday and close at 5 p.m. Sunday, followed by an 8 p.m. banquet in the hotel's famous Cocoanut Grove supper club. A gala evening is promised. Pinkerton guards will protect the bourse and exhibit area, and a security room will be available to both dealers and exhibitors. As long as the limited bourse is not filled, tables may be reserved by contacting Harvey Rose, P. O. Box 577, La Mesa, Calif. Competitive and noncompetitive exhibits will include some rarely seen collections, and a well known dealer will conduct an auction. — BOB BERMAN, Convention Mgr.

Australian Proof Sets

A letter from the Deputy Master of the Australian Royal Mint to Hugh M. Knight, Coin Editor of the Chicago Sun-Times, states, in part, "no 1964 proof sets of coins will be struck at this Mint." He also reported the following statement by the Commonwealth Treasury: "The issue of proof decimal coins will be the responsibility of the Australian National Mint to be established in Canberra, but as decimal coinage will not be issued to the public until February, 1966, or thereabouts, proof decimal coins will be unavailable until some time after that date, depending on the capacity of the new Mint to produce adequate stocks of replacement coins."

Alabama Numismatic Society Will Convene in July

The Alabama Numismatic Society will hold its fourth annual convention in Birmingham on July 15-18, in the Thomas Jefferson Hotel where last year's successful convention was held. Mrs. Purnie Moore, P. O. Box 3601 West End, Birmingham, 35211, will again be the general chairman and will have most of last year's committee chairmen serving with her. Marvin Acton, 413 N. 19th St., Birmingham 35204, will again handle the two or three session auction. The first day's activities probably will be confined to an educational program and reception in the evening. We expect and will plan for considerable increase in the attendance of about 3,000 last year, and will announce further details as plans develop. — WALTER B. JONES, Pres.

"Coin Wholesaler" Ceases Publication

After a short run, Dick Johnson's Coin Wholesaler ceased publication with the twelfth weekly issue (December 4, 1963). It was sold to Space City Numismatics, 4901 Montrose Blvd., Houston, Texas and will be incorporated in a new publication. Details have not been announced, although unexpired portion of subscriptions will be applied to the new magazine.

New Editor for "Centinel"

Cab Atkins, Centralia, Mo., has been named editor of the Centinel, official quarterly of the Central States Numismatic Society. He succeeds Elston G. Bradfield, Chicago, Ill., editor of the magazine since its inception ten years ago, who resigned recently.

First G.E.N.A. Convention Highlights

Held at the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia December 13-15, the Great Eastern Numismatic Association's first convention was truly gratifying to all who had put so much into its preparation. Paying the $1 registration fee were 3,821, and many of them took advantage of the Association's offer to refund the fee on any purchase of $5 or more in the bourse. With 106 dealers in the beautifully decorated bourse room of nearly 16,000 square feet, it wasn't hard to find something to purchase. Complete cooperation by the staff of the Hotel contributed markedly to the success of the affair.

Jim Kelly of Englewood, Ohio, held a pre-convention auction the day before the official opening, and reported spirited bidding in many lines. The peak of the three days was the Saturday evening banquet, which honored officials of the Mint. Included were Miss Eva B. Adams, Director, and her Assistant Mrs. P. M. Williams; Superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint Michael H. Sura; and Mint engravers Frank Gasparro, Edward R.

Grove, Philip E. Fowler and Gilroy Roberts. Miss Adams paid high tribute to these men and other personnel of the Mint, and the Association presented plaques to the four engravers and Superintendent Sura. It presented an honorary membership and a permanent membership card to Miss Adams. Exhibit award winners included Dr. Edward Greenhouse, James Kirkwood, William Moose, A. J. and Mrs. Ostheimer, John J. Pittman, Julius Turoff, Irving Vengrove and the Guggenheim Institute. The following officers for 1964 were elected: President Tom Wass; First Vice President Jerry Moskowitz; Second Vice President Boris Wishy; Third Vice President Edward Schuman; Treasurer Seamon Schlesinger; Secretary Samuel Burgdorf; Corresponding Secretary Robert Heller; Assistant Secretary Joan Brand, and Governors Ruth Bauer, Marie Burgdorf, Harry Forman, Bernard Gimelson, Marvin Kaplan, Sol Kaplan, Mort Nappen, Irving Vengrove, Joseph Weintraub and Martin Weissman.

A few of the one thousand beautiful bronze medals struck to commemorate the event are available to collectors at $2.00 each. The uniface medal depicts the first U.S. mint and Independence Hall, surmounted by an eagle reminiscent of the one used on quarters and half dollars of about 1810 to 1890. The site and date of next year's convention is expected to be announced soon.

JOHN F. KENNEDY MEMORIAL MEDAL

A medal intended as a campaign medal for the late President Kennedy will be completed and offered to the public, according to Presidential Art Medals, Inc., P.O. Box 187, Englewood, Ohio. Designed by the eminent sculptor, Ralph J. Menconi, the obverse features Kennedy's portrait, dates of birth and death, and the symbolic eternal flame. The reverse is divided into three parts indicating his public life: His naval service is shown by PT boat 109 and his naval officer insignia; another division features the seal of Massachusetts symbolizing his service in Congress; the remaining section depicts his Presidency. The medal is 1½" in diameter and will be struck in silver (15,000 serially numbered pieces at $15.00) and in bronze (limited to the year 1964 only at $5.00 each).

The common belief that crooked money is lucky is of ancient date, as may be seen from the following extracts from Fix's Book of Martyrs: "He sent to him his servant secretly . . . with a bowed (i.e., bent) groat, in token of his good heart to him," A.D. 1562. "Also when she had bowed a piece of silver, to a saint, for the health of her child . . .," A.D. 1584. — Dictionary of Words, Facts and Phrases, 1881

Silver Certificate Replacement Begins

Release of the $1 Federal Reserve notes on November 26, 1963, delighted paper money collectors, caused very little comment from the general public, and presented a new problem to the twelve Federal Reserve Banks of the country. The face of the new notes is quite different from the old $1 silver certificates except for the familiar face of Washington in an oval frame, but the design on the back was not altered. As in the case of the higher denomination Federal Reserve notes, the new one bears the seal of the F. R. bank from which it is issued, in addition to the green Treasury Department seal.

The change from silver certificates to Federal Reserve notes in the $1 denomination was authorized by Congress last May 23, when it sent H.R. 5389 to the President for signature. The purpose of the new notes is to permit retirement of silver certificates, thereby releasing silver bullion and dollars held for redemption of the certificates. At the beginning of 1963, the Treasury was holding over 2.2 billion dollars in silver for this purpose.

The new Federal Reserve $1 note, with new borders, bank seal and district numbers. The "7" and "G"—seventh letter in the alphabet—indicate this note was released by the seventh district bank, which is in Chicago.

In keeping with the change, the words "in silver payable to the bearer on demand" are missing from the new notes. But a change has been made from the wording on other Federal Reserve notes also. The meaningless small print phrase "is redeemable in lawful money at the United States Treasury, or at any Federal Reserve Bank" does not appear on the new notes. The term "lawful money" has long been considered to be without meaning by the Treasury Department. So the new notes make no promise whatsoever of redemption. While none of the Federal Reserve notes is convertible into metallic money, they are backed by twenty-five per cent gold bullion and are not, therefore, "pure" fiat money.

Like all other Federal Reserve notes, the new dollars are an obligation of the bank which issues them, hence an accounting must be made of them. Prior to about five years ago, each F. R. bank sorted the notes it received from commercial banks and returned those of other districts to the respective bank which issued them. Currently they sort out only the notes that are unfit for circulation and return them, sorted by districts, to the Treasury Department for credit and destruction.

The new $1 notes will greatly increase the sorting operations and shipping costs. Consideration is being given, we understand, to permitting each district to record and incinerate its own notes, and possibly the notes of other districts, and advise the Treasury Department of such operations. But converting the low denomination paper to Federal Reserve notes will more than double the number to be sorted. This, plus the shorter life of the $1 notes, will greatly increase the sorting and accounting problems in each of the twelve "Feds."

COUNTERFEITS OF U. S. AND OTHER COINS REPORTED

By

JOHN J. FORD, JR., AND DON TAXAY

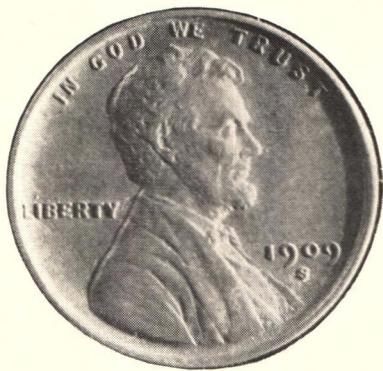

(In collaboration with the Professional Numismatists Guild)

All rights reserved

COUNTERFEIT U.S. coins, mainly die struck, are continuing to appear. Just about all of the new arrivals are replicas of "key" United States coins, generally Lincoln cents. Each new group (and these coins have been appearing in pairs or in small groups) is of seemingly better quality, with few exceptions.

Collectors and dealers sending counterfeit coins to us should be advised that, when the coins are definitely false, we must turn them over to the New York office of the Secret Service, which will, in turn, forward the fakes to the office closest to the source. The agents in the office having jurisdiction will contact the owner of the false coins, and try to assist him in getting his money back by accompanying him to the party from whom he obtained the material. It should be emphasized that no one coöperating with us in good faith need fear either the Secret Service or the possibility of financial loss. It is to the benefit of all that counterfeits and those persons dealing in such items should be exposed and apprehended.

The Professional Numismatists Guild is in the process of setting up machinery both for the authentication of rare coins, and for the proper handling of fakes, with the coöperation of the Treasury Department. This is a highly complex and difficult proposition, and we cannot over stress the fact that the coöperation of everyone concerned is of the greatest importance.

No. LC-4

Date: 1909-S

Denomination: Cent (Lincoln)

Weight: 46.5 grains.

Metal: Copper or bronze.

Planchet: Minor signs of discoloration suggest that the alloy used may have been imperfectly mixed. Microscopically granular and defective. Edge upsetting normal upon both sides.

Edge: Wide, square, and rather highly polished, not unlike that found upon proof coins. There are marked perpendicular striations caused by the traction of the collar.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, from dies made directly from genuine coins, undoubtedly by an impact process of high technical quality.

Characteristics: Obv. There is a faint, more or less raised, plateau-like, circular area below the second T of TRUST. There is also a tenuous die flaw, about 1 mm. long, above RT of LIBERTY. The right outline of Lincoln's suit coat, about the date and mint mark area, is weakly impressed. There is an obvious bar-like line on the left side of the mint mark. Rev. A microscopic, but bold die not within the lower part of the C in CENT is diagnostic. The milling on this cent is slightly narrower than generally seen for this year, but not for the series as a whole. The angle of upsetting, however, is excellent, as are the relief, fields, and metal flow. However, careful examination with a glass reveals several lint marks, on both sides, caused by foreign matter settling either upon the planchet or die immediately before striking. The distribution and number of these can almost be considered diagnostic; they are indicative of sloppy manufacturing techniques.

Source: East Germany. This cent, together with LC-5, LC-6 and LN-1, was purchased by an Air Force captain from a West Berlin antique dealer, who allegedly obtained them from the People's Democratic Republic. The antique dealer's name is Johann Wittek, 51 Papierstrasse, No. 10, West Berlin. The cent described, together with the three aforementioned frauds, have been turned over to the U. S. Secret Service.

Remarks: This coin is easily one of the most deceptive counterfeit cents that we have seen. The field undulations or unevenness, characteristic of impact die struck copies, are almost invisible. The imperfect upsetting noted on similar examples is not in the slightest evidence here. We would call this cent a bold extremely fine, condition wise. It can easily be identified by the proof-like edge, and the diagnostic reverse die dot within the C of CENT. The coin, in color and appearance, perhaps looks too good, and even if these characteristics were altered by contrived wear, the bold border and square edge would remain.

No. LC-5

Date: 1914-D

Denomination: Cent

Weight: 45.8 grains.

Metal: Copper or bronze.

Planchet: Possibly composed of improperly mixed alloy. Uneven in color; resembles a cleaned cent that has been artificially retoned or recolored.

Edge: Broad and square; proof-like. From the obverse almost feels wire-like. The edge is presumably the result of a too tight collar. Clearly diagnostic, particularly when the worn appearance of the cent is taken into consideration.

Method of Manufacture: Struck from dies made from genuine coins. It is very probable that two differently worn coins were utilized to make the impact dies, as the obverse appears to be in fine condition, and the reverse very fine.

Characteristics: Obv. Tiny, dot-like die defect under the end of the right stand of the second T in TRUST. This is only one of many similar microscopic flaws in the same general area. The line of Lincoln's suitcoat is almost nonexistent opposite the 19 of date. Mintmark appears doubled at right.

Rev. Different than that of LC-4. No diagnostics readily perceptible. Slightly granular inside the border, particularly at lower left, which is undoubtedly a striking characteristic. The reverse border is flat, compared with that upon the obverse, which is unusual, as the reverse is overall much bolder than the obverse.

Source: East Germany. Same as that of LC-4, LC-6 and LN-1.

Remarks: Manufactured by the same technique and forger as previous, with modifications. The surfaces have, on this example, been artificially bag-marked, probably in a tumbling barrel. The widely distributed patches of light granularity found upon LC-4, and that coin's lint marks, are not discernible upon this piece. The square edge of this cent gives it away, as does the high obverse and low reverse borders. This counterfeit would be very deceptive in an album containing a worn set of Lincoln cents. A collector of U. S. colonials, familiar with eighteenth century items struck from dies made to simulate worn coins, such as Bungtowns, would quickly notice the odd flatness of Lincoln's bust on this piece. Unfortunately, colonial collectors do not collect worn Lincoln "key" cents.

Date: 1931-S

Denomination: Cent

Weight: 46.3 grains.

Metal: Copper or bronze.

Planchet: Alloy of uniform texture; no signs of uneven color. Microscopically granular and defective. Edge upsetting normal upon both sides.

Edge: Wide, square, and more or less polished. Similar to that found upon proof coins. A glass reveals perpendicular striations caused by the traction of the collar.

Method of Manufacture: Struck from dies made directly from genuine coins. Another impact, die-struck copy.

Characteristics: Obv. The lower left hand corner of the L in LIBERTY seems to be connected to the border by a long tail. The "S" mintmark almost resembles a numeral 8.

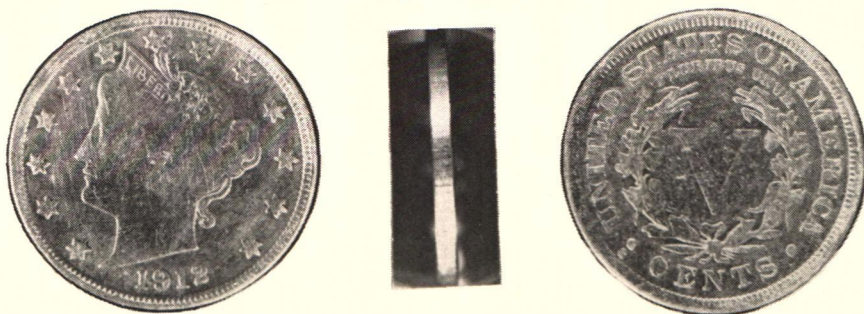

Rev. From the same die as LC-4, with the diagnostic die dot within the lower part of the C in CENT. As with LC-5, the reverse border is much lower than that of the obverse. Relief, fields and metal flow are all excellent in appearance. However, a strong glass will reveal a few of the lint marks characteristic of LC-4, and minor, microscopic defects similar to the die dot within C of CENT.

Source: East Germany. Courtney L. Coffing, in the November 29, 1963 issue of Coin World, under his column heading, "European Report," describes a group of Indian and Lincoln cents offered to him by "two suspicious Germans." These consisted of 1870, 1877 (2), 1909-S Lincoln (2), 1909-S VDB (3), 1914-D (2), 1931-S and 1955 double die (2) cents, all of which, according to Coffing, were in fine to very fine condition. This $1,500 plus lot was offered at $600. A friend of Coffing purchased a similar lot. We have every reason to believe that these cents were from the same source as LC-4, LC-5 and LC-6. The communists have apparently stumbled upon a new method of obtaining U. S. dollars.

Remarks: This 1931-S cent is of exceptionally high quality, and is probably as deceptive as any of the modern struck counterfeits that we have seen. Only the proof-like edge, the almost high wire obverse border (like that on LC-5), and the reverse die dot within C of CENT readily give this piece away. We received these coins in a single package, and knew immediately that they were not authentic by observing that the 1909-S and 1931-S cents were from identical reverse dies. We would describe this coin as VF-EF, but condition can vary greatly with these frauds.

No. LN-1

Date: 1912-S

Denomination: Five cents

Weight: 74 grains.

Metal: Copper-nickel alloy.

Planchet: Very granular, particularly visible about letters and devices (where obvious tumbling and/or brushing has not effaced the porous evidence).

Edge: Wide, square and very highly polished. Clearly shows the perpendicular striations caused by the traction of the collar. The edge on the specimen examined is clearly diagnostic.

Method of Manufacture: Struck, from dies made directly from genuine coins. The pieces used were in fine or so preservation. An impact die-struck copy.

Characteristics: Obv. The dentilation is very weak from the second to seventh stars and in the same area on the opposite side.

Rev. There are two microscopic die dots, practically touching each other, directly below I of UNITED. The "S" mintmark is almost a blob, and resembles a somewhat flat numeral "8". The roman numeral V, at the center of the reverse, is very weak. The coin has been brightly cleaned, but there is still considerable mint lustre from striking. As with the "worn" 1914-D cent (LC-5), Liberty's head (like Lincoln's bust) appears unnaturally flat (the result of striking the nickel from dies made from worn coins). This, plus the lustrous and scrubbed appearance, clashes with the condition of the piece.

Source: East Germany. Purchased at the same time, and from the same source, as the three counterfeit Lincoln cents, LC-4, LC-5, LC-6.

Remarks: This nickel was manufactured by the same technique and forger as the aforementioned Lincoln cents, and displays, generally, the same characteristics. We sent it to our friend Dave Bowers, of Empire Coin Co. Bowers commented upon it, on the fifth page of the "Empire Investors Report," issue No. 10, December 23, 1963. He stated: "More counterfeits of popular U. S. coins are appearing. A 1912-S Liberty Head nickel we recently saw is so obviously bogus that it should give no one trouble: The legend is unclear and the relief doesn't have normal depth." We agree, except that we might add that the coin under discussion could be made deceptive by the correct kind of artificial wear. The proof-like edge, however, would be very difficult to conceal, and would always be a give-a-way.

WHAT OTHERS PUBLISH

World War II Military Currency by Raymond S. Toy, 992 Hacienda Dr., Calif. 92020, 1964, illus., 51 pp., $1.50. Incorporating much of the catalogs of Alfred J. Swails by permission, this booklet lists the known military currency, pictures many pieces, and prices the money in several grades. If you are interested in this specialty, you should have this book, even though it is not definitive.

Coin Collecting in a Nut Shell by Ted G. Wear, 1963, Doubleday & Co., New York, N.Y., illus., 144 pp., hard cover, $3.50. Another one of the run of the mill books which offers little new information on coins and collecting. The book does attempt a chatty, fictionalized lightness but it does not quite come off. The subject would have fared better with more straight prose. Of little use to the coin collector with experience, it may appeal to the layman who has no knowledge of the subject. Illustrations are fair to good.

Complete Guide for Profitable Coin Investing by Don Bale, 1963, illus., 208 pp. A comprehensive discussion of a topic much in the news these days. If you are intent on "cashing in" on your hobby rather than using it for pleasure, you should add this book to your shelf. Address of Bale Books is 2008 W. Madison St., Sioux Falls, S. Dakota.

Nickel: An Historical Review by F. B. Howard-White, 1963, D. Van Nostrand Co., New York, N.Y., illus., 350 pp., hard cover. An excellent book with fine quality illustrations. Traces nickel and its uses throughout history, and looks ahead to its future. Of special interest to coin collectors is the chapter "Nickel in Coinage."

Manual for Coin Collectors and Investors by Burton Hobson and Fred Reinfeld, 1963, Sterling Publishing Co., New York, N.Y., paper cover, illus., 160 pp., $1.50. Much of this book has been published before in the series on coin collecting prepared by Reinfeld. Illustrations are offset and vary in quality from fair to fine. The investor may find his money's worth but how about the hobbyist?

Japanese Invasion Paper Money by Dwight L. Musser, Box 428, Indian Rocks Beach, Fla., 1963, mimeo, 8 pp., 50¢ postpaid. One of the most comprehensive and accurate surveys of this subject. Includes catalog listing with new improved numbering system.

New and Enlarged Coin Guide with Premium List of Canadian and U.S. Coins and Bills and Coins of Great Britain by J. E. Charlton, 1964, Charlton Coin and Stamp Co., Ltd., 49 Queen St., East, Toronto 1, Canada, 64 pp., 50¢. Buying prices of average, circulated pieces if required for stock. Active collectors will find this book's cost a half dollar well spent.

How to Read Greek Coins by Paul Pennington, Hewitt's Numismatic Information Series, Hewitt Brothers, 7320 Milwaukee Ave., Chicago, Ill., 1963, illus., 22 pp., 50¢. Believing that lack of interest in ancient Greek coins is because few persons are familiar with the language, the author through the use of charts, illustrations and readable text leads the reader slowly and skillfully to a workable translation of the inscriptions found on the coins.

Japanese Invasion Money by Arlie Slabaugh, Hewitt's Numismatic Information Series, Hewitt Brothers, 7320 Milwaukee Ave., Chicago, Ill., 1963, illus., 30 pp., $1.00. The author, widely known for his numismatic knowledge, lists, describes and illustrates this series, including varieties, code letters and propaganda issues. Average retail prices are given.

Cash for Your Canada, United States, Great Britain Coins & Bills, Gold Coins, Crowns of the World, edited by Somer James, Nick Gerbinski, H. C. Taylor, 1963, Numismatic Guild of Canada, Regency Coin and Stamp Co., 157 Rupert Ave., Winnipeg 2, Man., Canada, 96 pp., 60¢. Premium prices are given for two conditions of coins and paper money. Bargain at the price.

Whitman Numismatic Journal, A Monthly Supplement to All Whitman Standard Coin Reference Books, Vol. 1, No. 1, January, 1964, $3.50 a year, 1220 Mound Ave., Racine, Wis. 53404. Whitman's venture into the monthly magazine field, 5" x 7½", is well printed on quality stock with pictorial matter mostly fine, although there are some lapses. "Its purpose is primarily to lend aid and comfort to the thousands of loyal owners of our standard reference books which are issued a year or more apart," says R. S. Yeoman, editor in chief. It is hoped to publish supplemental information, price changes, etc. In this issue the "Red Book," the "Brown Book," Canadian catalog, have prices up-dated. Some of the other articles are "A New Mexican Decimal 'Mule'" by Neil Shafer, "Sierra Leone" by Les Zeller, "Foreign Coins Struck at U. S. Mints" by C. G. Altz and E. H. Barton, "Modern English Proof Sets" by Q. David Bowers, "Coin Chronicle of the Roman Republic" by Zander Klawans, "Mystery Coin of Puerto Rico" by Kenneth Bressett, etc.

Catholic Digest, October, 1963. "Pennies For Heaven," by Dorothy Hartney. A good story about coin collecting, based on the experiences of Father Edward Collins of San Fernando, Calif., who took it up on his doctor's advice "for relief from my ulcers." Father Collins considers himself an "investor-collector," but turns his profits over to the Roman Catholic Church. He gives a quite accurate picture of the hobby, but stresses the profit side of it with examples of coins which have appreciated in value, listing premium value coins that may be found, and warning against misleading advertising. No source is given for the statement that "He is among two million collectors . . . About 43% of the collectors are interested in coins as investments, as well as for recreation."

The Canadian Numismatic Publishing Institute, division of Regency Coin & Stamp Co., Ltd., is releasing a reprint of The Canadian Coin Cabinet by Dr. Joseph LeRoux, M.D. This is the first reprint of the famous 1892 reference work which established a numbering and coding system for Canada's tokens and medals. The publishers believe that not more than four hundred copies of the original book are extant, and they bring around $75 when offered. The reprint is on heavy, fine quality paper, cloth bound, and complete with all original illustrations and the English and French text. Adding to the reference value of the work, the following shorter publications have been included: Canadian Blacksmith Tokens by Howland Wood; The Coinage of Nova Scotia and The Wellington Tokens Relating to Canada by Dr. Eugene G. Courteau; and Copper Tokens of Upper Canada by R. W. McLachlan. This reprint, which contains 580 pages, is limited to 1,000 copies at $16.50, available from the Regency Coin & Stamp Co., Ltd., 157 Rupert Ave., Winnipeg 2, Man., Canada.

For the Good of Numismatics and the A.N.A.

BEWARE OF BECOMING A THIEF

It is not unusual that persons who wouldn't think of stealing money or other material things are guilty of another kind of thievery. A few may not be aware of any wrongdoing; others are apt to reason that they are not harming anyone and that no one will detect the ruse anyway.

The point is that plagiarism — passing off as one's own the ideas or words of another; using a created literary or artistic work without crediting the source; literary larceny — is unethical, unmoral and, in the case of copyrighted material, illegal. Moreover, it degrades the plagiarist by showing his lack of ability or industry to produce an original work which he considers worthy of publication. "Borrowed thoughts, like borrowed money, only shows the poverty of the borrower," wrote Lady Blessington (1789-1849). Notice that we are using the words of another but, because credit is given, we are not plagiarising.

If you wish to use copyrighted material, first get the permission of the person or firm (usually the publisher) holding the copyright; then give credit to the source. Even if it is not copyrighted, ethics dictate the same procedure — get permission and give credit. By the way, a copyright in this country is good for 28 years and may be renewed for another 28 years.

We try to avoid publishing any plagiarised matter in The Numismatist, but it is difficult to check everything thoroughly. However, writers know the source of their material and should consider it their responsibility to uphold the high standards which our magazine has established over the years. — GLENN S.

NEW OR RECENT ISSUES

By

ERNST KRAUS, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Apt. A, 1501 E. Mt. Airy Ave., Philadelphia 50, Pa. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

AUSTRIA

50 Schillings, 1963. Silver. Obverse: Shields of Austria and Tyrol, chained together, dates 1363 - 1963 below, legend on the bottom: TIROL - ÖSTERREICH. On top: 600 JAHRE (years). Reverse: In center numerals for value 50 within nine shields, laurel branches and SCHILLING below. Legend around: REPUBLIK ÖSTERREICH, inscription around the edge: FÜNFZIG SCHILLING. The above commemorates the six hundredth anniversary of the union of Tyrol with the ancient Duchy of Austria in 1363. (Jack Friedberg, Gimbels Coin Dept. Lauren Benson, Erich Sperr).

GUINEA

5 Francs, 1962. Copper-nickel. Ob-

ISRAEL

1 Pound, 1963. Copper-nickel. Obverse: Inscription in center panel: 1. Israeli Lira, geometrical pattern, "Israel" in Hebrew and Arabic below year 1963 Christian Era and Hebrew date 5724 underneath. Reverse: North African Chanukah lamp of the eighteenth century, Hebrew legend below: "Chanukia from North Africa" eighteenth century. Plain edge. Design by Shamir Brothers, Tel Aviv, struck at the state mint in Utrecht. Regular issue, 10,000; proof, 5,000. (Lauren Benson).

LEBANON

10 Piastres, 1961. Copper-nickel. Obverse: Large galley with sail, date below (no mint mark); on top, value, French legend around lower part: REPUBLIQUE LIBANAISE. Reverse: Cedar tree in center, 1961 in Arabic numerals below, legend in Arabic below "Yumhuriya Lubnan," value on top: 10 guerch. Reeded edge. Thinner planchet than 1955 issue of similar design.

REUNION

THAILAND

1 Baht, 1963. Copper-nickel. Obverse: Bust of the king in uniform, to left, legend around the upper part: "Bhumibol Adulyadej" The ninth king. On the bottom: "On the completion of the third cycle of age" (a cycle is twelve years in Buddhist calculation) commemorating the King's thirty-sixth birthday on December 5, 1963. Reverse: Insignia of the King in the center, on top: "Thai Government - one baht," numeral 1 in Thai and Arabic characters on the sides. Reeded edge.

20 Baht, 1963. Silver. Obverse: Bust of the King in uniform to left. Legend around: "Phrabat somdej phra paramindra maha Bhumibol Adulyadej" and on the bottom: "On the completion of the third cycle of age." Reverse: Insignia of the King: Crown, scepter, royal baton, fan, chowry and sandals under nine tiered royal umbrella. Numeral 20 in Thai and Arabic characters, on the bottom "baht," on top: "Thai Government." Reeded edge. Struck at the royal Thai mint. This is the first time, a 20 baht coin has ever been issued. ## There Are Still Three Types of the 1897 Cuban Peso

In the November, 1963, issue of The Numismatist, the distinguished curator of the Yale University coin collection expressed the opinion that a revision should be made in the customary division of the 1897 souvenir peso into three types.

This allegation was based on an examination of the reverses of two Type I pieces in the Yale collection. One of these has a wider E and a thinner C than the corresponding letters in the second piece. The accompanying photographs are too small to appreciate fully the stated differences. I submit that unless a number of these pieces can be localized, such a minor variation in a single coin hardly constitutes a new type.

In the Farouk collection there was a striking in bronze which was in fact a mule, yet nobody has suggested that a new type should be cataloged. There are also in a safe place in Havana two more bronze striking which would bear close examination as regards their classification.

Let us now turn from theory to fact. What do we really know of the circumstances under which Type I and the others were struck? In the unedited papers of the New York Revolutionary Junta in the Cuban national archives it is stated that on July 16 the first coins, 181 in number, were struck at the shops of the Dunn Air-Brake Company at Philadelphia, from the die and silver flans sent by the Gorham Coy. (Incidentally, the present company of that name has no written records reaching so far back.) On July 17, 383 coins were struck, and on July 18, 288 more. Six more seem to have been produced and thirty were destroyed as defective. It is possible that the Yale specimen is one of these latter pieces.

The suggestion that Types II and III should be transposed is untenable. After a delay due to the modification of the previous design, 4,286 pieces of Type II were struck at Providence, R. I. The die broke the same day and the striking was hence suspended. The Junta were in reduced circumstances economically and it is clear that only one die was used for each type. Thus the suggestion that there were two dies available for the striking of Type I again appears to be highly improbable.

The 1898 peso was not struck until March 9 of the following year, six months later. The fact that the design used repeats the H of Type II instead of the design for Type II is immaterial. In any other field of numismatics I would hesitate to differ from Dr. Buttrey but on my home ground I feel secure enough to insist on my previous findings. — THOMAS LISMORE

Decimal Coinage Idea Not New to Britain

The current interest in a proposed change-over to decimal coinage is nothing new to the British and British colonies. As early as 1824 Sir John Wrottesley moved in the house of commons for inquiry as to the possibility of a decimal subdivision of the pound sterling into double shillings (subsequently called florins) and into farthings of 1,000 instead of 960 to the pound. These were to be called mils. The motion was opposed by the government on the plea of inconvenience in carrying it out. Advantages of the plan were admitted. The motion was withdrawn by Sir John after the government pledged to assimilate the currency of Ireland into that of England — a promise subsequently carried out in 1826.

In 1841 the astronomer royal (Airy) and seven other eminent scientists were appointed a commission for restoration of the standards of weights and measures destroyed by the fire which burned the houses of parliament. They reported unreservedly in favor of a decimal subdivision of the pound sterling, the creation of a new coin equivalent to two shillings (florin), another new coin equal to the one-hundredth part of a pound, and another new coin of one-thousandth part of a pound. The commission also recommended retention of coins of the same value as the then current shilling and sixpence.

In 1843 a second commission was appointed, consisting of the same commissioners as the commission of 1841, plus a few additional members with scientific backgrounds. This commission proposed that the recommendations of the committee of 1841 should be carried out. The government again took no action.

In 1847 Sir John Bowring, in an address to the crown, made a formal motion in parliament favoring the coinage of silver pieces of one-tenth and one-hundredth of a pound. The government considered the first step in the decimal system should be to establish a coin equal to one-tenth of a pound. This was the origin of the modern English florin. The mintage of the florin was approved immediately. However, regular coinage did not begin until 1849, though patterns of 1848 are known.

In March of 1853, the commissioners appointed in 1843 wrote to William E. Gladstone, chancellor of the exchequer, strongly urging the government to mint copper coins related to the millennial subdivision of the pound sterling. They recommended coins of the value of one-thousandth, two-thousandths, and four-thousandths of a pound, to correspond to the farthing, half-penny, and penny — to be used extensively by the public with the least inconvenience. In April, 1853, Gladstone declined on the part of the government to make any change in the copper coinage, stating that any alteration in the value of the coins most used by the mass of common people required greater study. He agreed to the appointment of a select committee to study the subject. The committee was appointed shortly and the twenty-five witnesses examined were unanimous in recommending a decimal coinage, and with one exception supported the pound and mil proposals.

In August, 1853, the committee reported to the house of commons. The pound sterling was recommended as the unit of the new system of coinage. An almost immediate change-over to the new system was recommended. This caused great excitement and much public discussion. A number of alternate plans were proposed, the most popular of which recommended the farthing, half-penny, penny, ten pence, twenty pence, four shillings, eight shillings, crown, ten shillings, and guinea as better than the pound sterling in the decimal system. This failed, however, as the conversion would have made the pound equal to one pound ten pence.

In June, 1854, the Decimal Association was formed, its chief object being the establishment of the decimal system in coins of account and circulation based on the pound and mil scheme. The chairman of the association was William Brown. He had obtained excellent evidence that the poorer classes understood with no difficulty the assimilation of the Irish currency into the English, where 13 Irish pence were equal to 12 English pence.

The council of the Decimal Association, with headquarters in London, included Lord Stanley, Prof. Augustus de Morgan, a Mr. Crawford, M.P.

(probably William Sharmon Crawford) and many other distinguished men. After some meetings in Liverpool they succeeded in gaining the support of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce.

The council of the Decimal Association was untiring in its work, distributing thousands of pamphlets on the decimal question, stimulating the scientific societies of London to receive papers and encourage discussion on the advantages of a decimal coinage from the florin downward. The members of the Decimal Association were very successful in winning favor from the commercial and scientific communities for the immediate introduction of the pound and mil scheme. But the chancellor of the exchequer, Gladstone, and the premier, Lord Palmerston, failed to take action. The crux of Gladstone's remarks was that the common man was not ready for the change and that any change should be postponed indefinitely.

In June of 1855, William Brown moved in the house of commons that: (1) In the opinion this house, the initiation of the decimal system by the issue of the florin has been eminently successful and satisfactory, (2) That a further extension of the system will be of public advantage, (3) That a humble address be presented to her majesty, praying that she will be graciously pleased to complete the decimal system with the pound and florin, as suggested by two commissions and a committee of the house of commons, by authorizing the issue of silver coins to represent the value of the one-hundredth part of a pound, and copper coins to represent the one-thousandth part of a pound, to be called cents and mils, respectively, or to bear such other names as her majesty may deem advisable.

The first two motions passed but the third was withdrawn. The government still maintained the policy of more delay.

In 1856 the Decimal Association set to work to improve the opportunity afforded by the great success of the resolutions moved in the house of commons by their chairman. Further interviews took place with the premier and the chancellor of the exchequer. The city of London presented to the house of commons a petition from many of its chief citizens and their employes recommending that measures be taken to prepare the way for the introduction of a decimal system of coinage and accounts. In this petition it was stated that any other mode of decimalizing the currency than from the pound downward would be impractical, that the pound constituted an English national fixed idea of value and position, associated with every existing contract, and every comparison of past revenue, expenditure and price, and should be retained. Petitions also were prepared under auspices of the Decimal Association for presentation by schoolmasters and teachers, setting forth the educational advantages of the proposed change.

On Nov. 11, 1856, a royal commission consisting of Lord Monteagle, Lord Overstone, and J. G. Hubbard, M.P., was appointed to consider how far it might be practical and advisable to introduce the principle of decimal division into the coinage of the United Kingdom. The commissioners interviewed new witnesses and prepared a series of questions addressed to her majesty's ministers or consular officials in foreign countries where a decimal coinage had been introduced, with the view of collecting information on the previous state of the coinage, the reasons which led to the introduction of the decimal coinage, the difficulties which accompanied the change, the extent to which the decimal coinage had been brought into practical use, and the result — satisfactory or otherwise. A preliminary report was made in April, 1857, by the three commissioners, and a final report two years later, in April, 1859, by two of the commissioners, Lord Overstone and Hubbard. The chairman of the commission, Lord Monteagle, resigned in the intervening period.

The final report of the royal commissioners dated April 5, 1859, included twelve resolutions, nearly all of a discouraging character, and adapted to aid any present or future minister who might wish to postpone the further decimalization of the pound sterling.

The controversy continued for a number of years but eventually lost support and lapsed. The subject has been brought up innumerable times in the last century but never with as much support as the present. The fact that some definite changes have been made in the British Commonwealth of Nations (notably South Africa) and more are scheduled will weigh heavily in England. The odds seem good that decimal coinage will be accepted in England.

REPORT OF THE A.N.A. LIBRARIAN

Stephen F. Christy has donated a check for $150.00 to the A.N.A. Library. This represents one half of the proceeds so far from his new book The Crown Locator, published by Whitman. He is going to continue to donate one half of all proceeds from this book to our library and the other half to the American Numismatic Society. It is to be spent for the furtherance of numismatics. We are extremely grateful for his generosity. When you purchase a copy of the book you are also helping the library.

We are running very short of the January issues of The Numismatist for the years 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1963. If you no longer need your copy, we would be very glad to receive it.

We thank the following for their donations to the library: Stephen F. Christy, W. P. Keller, Ernest Di Raimonds, W. C. Lawes, D. S. Kleckner, O. H. Dodson, Stephen M. Toth, William J. Bauer, Matt Krzastek, Irv Wittow, Whitman Publishing Co., John Meiszer, A. Hausske, Fred Mohr; Cornell C. Hunter, G. K. Hall, Edward R. Barnsley, O'Hara's Antiques and Gifts, Lincoln Coin Club, Michael Bove, Elmer Nelson, Sydney V. Hagley, James R. Croghan and Arthur B. Coole.

Dwindling Federal Reserve Bank Notes

The fifth edition of Robert Friedberg's invaluable Paper Money of the United States, due shortly, will enliven enthusiasm among paper currency collectors. In recent months the roll and bag boys have monopolized the interest, the time, and the money of workers in the numismatic field. Now, with a lull in the activity of these eagle-eyed "experts," who ply their microscopes to discover a shifted die or a double-struck planchet, the real students of numismatics are returning to the hobby. The fast buck fellows, most of them dating since 1955, are fading from the scene. In this writer's opinion, there is due in the immediate offing a resurging wave of excitement concerning the collecting of paper currency.

A sure-fire favorite series will be the Federal Reserve bank notes (old large size) issued in 1915 and 1918 by the twelve banks, in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20 and $50. Total issue of this series, representing all twelve banks and all denominations, was $761,944,000. The latest outstanding figures from the redemption department of the United States treasury were reported as of Sept. 15, 1963. This total, all banks, all denominations, is $1,096,966.50. This total outstanding is dwindling and will become less as the months go by. A good guess is that of these notes in the treasury's unredeemed column, 10% to 20% have been lost, destroyed by fire or flood, or voided by other mishap. This leaves less than 1 million dollars in existence, from the original 762 million dollars issued.

The following table shows the outstanding note totals of all twelve banks, all denominations, as of Sept. 15, 1963:

	Total Issued	Outstanding
$1s	$478,892,000.00	$773,503.00
$2s	135,192,000.00	173,906.00
$5s	121,460,000.00	103,267.50
$10s	16,440,000.00	26,290.00
$20s	9,760,000.00	17,200.00
$50s	200,000.00	2,800.00
	<hr/> $761,944,000.00	<hr/> $1,096,966.50

The number of notes outstanding of each Federal Reserve bank is not available. In 1944 the redemptions were combined for all banks. The different denominations remain segregated but represent all twelve banks.

Here are the number of notes unredeemed, all twelve banks: 773,503 in $1s; 86,953 in $2s; 20,655½ in $5s; 2,629 in $10s; 860 in $20s; and 56 in $50s.

It is interesting to note outstanding figures for each bank, each denomination, as of Oct. 30, 1944. The figures today, if they were available for each bank, in all denominations, would be considerably reduced. (See lead article, in August, 1951 Numismatist for comparative rarity of different Federal Reserve bank notes, and unredeemed notes as of Oct. 30, 1944.)

The only bank to issue a $50 Federal Reserve bank note was St. Louis. Total issue was $200,000, or 4,000 pieces. On Jan. 17, 1951, only 70 of these were unredeemed. On Sept. 15, 1963, the outstanding was only $2,800, or 56 notes. Figuring a percentage of these have gone down the drain, one way or another (fire, etc.) there probably are not more than 40 of these in existence today — making this note equal in rarity to Friedberg's No. 151 and No. 376.

The twelve banks, no doubt, will hold their respective places as of Oct. 30, 1944, in the outstanding totals of today. The following can be set down as the order of rarity.

The twelve rarest notes — each with less than 750 unredeemed, listed in the order of rarity: St. Louis $50; St. Louis $20; Chicago $20; Dallas $20; St. Louis $10; Atlanta $10; New York $10; Atlanta $20; Boston $5; Kansas City $20; Dallas $10, and Chicago $10.

Five banks (St. Louis, Chicago, Dallas, Atlanta, and Kansas City) issued 20s. All are rare, in the order listed above.

Six banks issued $10s — the five in the preceding paragraph plus New York. All these $10s are scarce, less than 800 of any bank being extant.

Eleven banks issued $5s — the scarcity being in this order: Boston, Dallas, Philadelphia, Minneapolis, Atlanta, San Francisco, St. Louis, Kansas City, New York, Chicago, and Cleveland.

The Richmond bank issued only $1s and $2s — in two signature combinations. Today these four notes are scarce and much sought after to complete sets.

The scarcest $1s are those of the Minneapolis bank; scarcest $2s are those of the Dallas bank; scarcest $5s is the Boston issue; the scarcest $10s are the St. Louis notes; the scarcest $20s also are the St. Louis issue; and the rarest note of all Federal Reserve bank notes is the St. Louis $50.

The Federal Reserve bank note series is one of the most fascinating of all United States paper currency. The different signature combinations create 126 varieties. Richmond has the smallest number of varieties — four. Minneapolis is next with six. The Atlanta bank issued 17 different notes, Kansas City was second with 15, while St. Louis issued 14 varieties.

These 126 notes make a favorite target for paper money collectors because a number of these varieties are extremely rare. Only one complete set is known. It is the property of this writer. Of the 126 notes in this set, all but seven are strictly uncirculated. These seven are extremely fine or better. One of these notes in the Philpott collection is unique: the $20 Atlanta, Friedberg No. 822-a. In the years ahead, other unlisted varieties may turn up — but this writer doubts it.

JAPANESE EARTHENWARE COINS AGAIN

Earthenware coins, 10 sen, 5 sen and one sen, 1945

With reference to H. F. Bowker's "Japanese Earthenware Coins," The Numismatist, October, 1961, page 1367 and James J. Padden's "More on Japanese Earthenware Coins," The Numismatist, March, 1962, page 299, I would like to put in my "two cents" regarding information on these relatively unknown coins.

Recently I had occasion to examine a set of these coins in Japan (illustrated) and also had the good fortune to acquire a 1 sen piece for my collection. The most unusual thing about them, in my opinion, and something that cannot be inferred from existing illustrations, is the color of the coins. They are dark brown, about the color of burnt sienna, of fine detail and appear well made. The current issue of Bankoku Kosen Keiroku, 1963, a Japanese numismatic publication, states the places of manufacture of these coins are Kyoto and Seto on the main island of Honshu, and Arita on the southern island of Kyushu (all three cities are noted for chinaware and pottery production). It also lists the following coinage figures:

Kyoto	1 and 10 sen coins (total both types)....	3,000,000
Seto	1 and 5 sen coins (total both types).....	2,000,000
Arita	1 sen coins .....	1,000,000

A Japanese source has informed me that the Seto, 1 sen, is different from the coin illustrated, in that it is darker in color and bears only the character "ichi," (one) on the reverse without the impression of Fuji-san. However, never having seen the type, I cannot substantiate this. — WILLIAM O. WEST, CWO, USN, A.N.A. 43965

UNOFFICIAL COINS OF THE WORLD

By

RICHARD D. KENNEY

Concluded from January, 1964

PATAGONIA. An adventurous monarchy established by the French lawyer Orllie-Antoine de Tounens (1820-1878). He left France in 1858 and two years later set up his kingdom in the district of southern Chile inhabited by the Araucanian Indians. He soon was arrested and deported to France, then proceeded to acquire financial assistance by having these pieces made and sold to collectors. These, of course, were the 2 centavo pieces of 1874. The silver coins were made many years later and not under de Tounens' auspices.

No. 168

168. PESO 1874. ORLLIE-ANTOINE IR ROI D'ARAUCANIE ET DE PATAGONIE; crowned arms within circle of stars. Rev. NOUVELLE FRANCE above 11 stars. In the field, above two palm branches, UN PESO 1874. Silver, 44 grams, reeded edge.

a. Bronze.

b. Similar, but E under date. Silver, 24.5 grams, plain edge.

c. Bronze.

169. Similar, Arabic 1 instead of UN. Silver, 24.5 grams, plain edge.

a. Bronze.

170. TWO CENTAVOS 1874. Similar but DOS CENTAVOS. Bronze, 31 mm., plain edge.

PHILIPPINES.

171. FIVE PESETAS 1855. Head r., ISABEL 2A. POR LA GRACIA DE DIOS Y LA CONSTITUCION., date below. 5 PESETAS and small star within wreath. FILIPINAS/PLUS-ULTRA. Lily on either side of wreath. Silver.

No. 172

172. TWO CENTAVOS 1859. Date below crown in beaded circle; ISABEL 2A POR LA GRATIA DE DIOS, lily below; 2 Cs. within beaded circle; FILIPINAS/PLUS-ULTRA; lily on either side. Copper.

PUERTO RICO.

No. 173

173. TEN CENTIMOS 1890. Sun and rays; arms. Copper. Probably made by the same makers as those of the Republic of North Mexico.

SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC (TRANSVAAL)

No. 174

174. CROWN 1874. Bust of Pres. Burgers; arms. Silver, reeded edge.

- a. Similar, silver piedfort, plain edge.
- b. Similar, copper.
- c. Similar, gilt, plain edge.
- d. Similar, aluminum, reeded edge.

175. HALF CROWN. Similar, silver, reeded edge.

- a. Similar, silver, plain edge.
- b. Similar, gilt, plain edge.
- c. Similar, aluminum, reeded edge.
- d. Similar, aluminum, plain edge.

176. TWO PENCE. Arms, date, value. Bronze.

177. PENNY. Similar, bronze.

- a. Similar, triple piedfort, bronze.

NOTE: The issues of 1874 were made by Würden of Brussels. The two varieties of the gold pond are excluded because these Heaton-made pieces were officially authorized by the Transvaal government.

No. 178

178. PENNY 1890. Arms, date; value. Bronze. Made by Lauer of Nuremberg, under commission for Otto Nolte & Co.

SPAIN. Carlos VII, pretender.

NOTE: The issues of Carlos V (1833-1849) are not included since his coinage actually was current during the turbulent Carlist wars. The private patterns of Charles VII, however, were of a purely political-speculative nature.

No. 179

179. FIVE PESETAS 1874. CAROLUS VII DEI GRACIA, date bet. two stars. Head r., below, P.BEMBO; HISPANIARUM REX: crowned arms bet. P.5., a lily and letter C below each, resp. Silver, 25.5 grams, reeded edge.

- a. Similar, bronze.
- b. Similar, gilt.
- c. Similar, white metal.

No. 180

180. FIVE PESETAS 1874. CAROLUS VII REY DE LAS ESPANAS. Head r., lozenge below P.BEMBO; DIOS * PATRIA * Y * REY. Arms dividing 5.P., date below. Silver, 25.5 grams, reeded edge.

NOTE: Huth also had medals struck for Louisa Fernanda de Bourbon, Duchess of Monpensier, dated 1897, in gold, platinum, silver, bronze, tin, aluminum, copper, iron, and lead.

SWITZERLAND.

199. FIVE FRANCS 1891. Female head l.; to commemorate the 600th anniversary of Confederation. Silver, reeded edge.

APPENDIX I

Omissions

The following categories of unofficial coins have not been listed for the obvious reason that much information is lacking and new varieties are being discovered. Adequate coverage, too, in other basic numismatic works affords the student and collector the opportunity to group all the pieces together.

1. FRENCH UNOFFICIAL PATTERNS FOR THE WEST INDIES, 1781-1824. These are listed by Mazard under his numbers 481-486, inclusive. Four of the pieces were made at government mints and two were made by Michaut. Doubt exists that they were made for collectors and the feeling is that "mint sports" were the motivating force.
2. SPANISH PRETENDER CHARLES V, 1833-1849. His coins were struck for actual circulation during the internal strife. The same may be said of the coins of the adventurer Baron Neuhaus of Corsica and Pretender Dom Pedro of the Azores.
3. GERMAN GEDENKTALERS. Lack of space precludes listing this series. Attention is invited to Ernst Rudolph: Zusammenstellung der Taler (and Gedenktaler), Dresden, 1904. However, many more pieces have been made since this book appeared. The general rule is that they have inscribed the word GEDENKTALER (after 1871); GEDENKMUNZE; ELBETALER; SEGENSEMUNZE; etc., either as part of the legend or on the edge. They are commemorative medals, analogous to the U. S. so-called dollars, and were struck well into the thirties. It is felt that German numismatists are in a more suitable position to make a better contribution toward listing this series completely. Attention also is directed to German Talers Since 1800 by John S. Davenport, Appendix C entitled "Pseudo Talers."
4. CHINESE FANTASY COINS. A listing with illustrations may be found in the Illustrated Catalog of Chinese Coins by E. Kann, 1954. Pages 444-448 give the background and listing of the pieces under the headings: (a) "Forgeries of Chinese Coins"; (b) "Chinese Fantasy Coins"; (c) "Alterations on Chinese Coins." This word supersedes Duncan Raeburn's Coins That Never Were.
5. UNITED STATES UNOFFICIAL PATTERNS emanating from the mint. Such pieces as the 1884 and 1885 Trade dollars or the 1913 Liberty head 5¢ are in the nature of "mint sports" and hence unlisted here. Fuller treatment of these coins may be found in the Standard Catalog, various issues of the Coin Collectors Journal, and articles to come.
6. SOUVENIR FRACTIONAL GOLD COINS. Although most California souvenir gold pieces do not bear the word DOLLAR or DOL. following the fraction, there exist a number of pieces purporting to be of Alaska and other western states which bear fictitious denominations such as  $\frac{1}{4}$ ,  $\frac{1}{2}$ , 1 dwt.; toowah; pinch; and several others. These properly fall into the general category of Californian gold.

7. DOMINICAN REPUBLIC. A series of ten different patterns of 1 and 2 centavos were struck in 1877 and 1878. Proof is lacking that these were not authorized.

Engravers and Publishers

CAREL JOSEPH BEGEER Medalist of Utrecht and founder of the Royal Factory of Silver. Other members of the family bearing the same name are members of the firm. See International Florin 1934.

P. BEMBO This signature appears on the patterns of Charles VII of Spain and may be a pseudonym of some important engraver.

DANA BICKFORD See United States, Bickford dollars.

JOSEPH BONOMI An Italian sculptor and draftsman born in 1790, died in London in 1878. He designed the British Bonomi-Thomas crown.

AUGUSTE BRICHAUT Belgian editor of medals, jetons, etc. At one time an attache at the Paris mint. Also a numismatist of note; published in the Revue Belge de Numismatique 1870-1890. Designed or edited Madagascar dollar 1886; France, Count of Chambord 5 francs; Bulgaria 10 santims 1887. Probably responsible for other pieces-de-fantaisie.

G.C. On Henry V of France 5 francs 1831, 1832.

CAPEL Belgian engraver c. 1870-1880. Engraved French patterns of Henry V 1871; Thiers 5 francs 1873; Gambetta 5 francs 1873.

THOMAS L. ELDER A noted New York City coin dealer (died 1948) who published various medals, tokens, and denominational patterns. See Henry Hudson daalder and Brian Boru crown.

F On Moresnet pieces 1848.

FACONNET On one variety of Cambodian piastre 1860.

B. FORGEAIS A die-sinker at Paris c. 1848. Engraved the new Kingdom of Aquitaine 1 gascon.

JOHN GELLERT See U. S. Brian Boru crown 1910.

J. GESSENER A Swiss engraver who executed the 1873 patterns of Henry V of France.

KARL GRUPPE A medallic sculptor who designed the United Nations ducaton struck by the Medallic Art Co. Also known for his fine portrait medals issued by the N. Y. Numismatic Club.

EMIL GREEFF See United States, talent 1896.

H On Cuba souvenir pesos of 1897. The mint, Birmingham, disclaims any responsibility for this signature as their mintmark on this coin.

PROF. HANISCH-CONSEE A Viennese medalist. See United Europe 1952.

HEEREN BROTHERS. See United States, Eutopia dollar.

FRANK C. HIGGINS A noted U. S. numismatist at the turn of the century.

HOLY FRERES A Swiss die-sinking firm which executed the Esperanto coins.

REGINALD HUTH A British collector and publisher of various patterns. See listing under Great Britain; Hawaii; Madagascar; and Spain. His own collection was sold by Sotheby & Co. in 1927 and the combined catalogs are an important reference work on patterns in general.

T.W.I. Appears on Henry V of France 1 franc 1832.

L. CHRISTIAN LAUER The famous Nuremberg firm of die-sinkers which executed the patterns for the Transvaal; Orange Free State; Cape of Good Hope; and the states of Colombia and Mexico — all under commission for Otto Nolte & Co.

ROBERT LOVETT, JR. A brother of George H. and of John D., all sons of Robert Lovett, Sr., and all prolific die-sinkers of the nineteenth century. See Confederate States of America.

PHILIP MARTIGNY A New York medalist who modelled the Cuba souvenir pesos of 1897.

- MEDALLIC ART CO. OF N.Y. See Utopia and United Nations dollars.
- GEORGE MILLS English medalist, 1792-1824. Engraved the George IV crown published by Whiteaves.
- NAPOLEON On French Mac-Mahon 5 francs 1874.
- OTTO NOLTE & CO. Berlin die-sinking firm founded in 1875. See Lauer.
- P.R.O. Appears on Moresnet coins 1848.
- OESCHGER, MESDACH & CO. Known as Eschger, Ghesquiere & Co., after 1881. Die-sinkers at Ter Kiele, Holland, and Biache (Pas-de-Calais) Paris. At one time owned private mints in Spain and executed many regular coins for that and other countries. Among the unofficial patterns they claim responsibility for Cambodia 5 and 10 centimes engraved by Würden and the Bulgaria 10 santims of 1880 and 1887.
- P Appears on the Cuba souv patterns of 1870.
- JOHN H. PINCHES British medalist born 1852 and founder of Pinches & Co. The firm contracted for foreign coins from the mint, Birmingham. In commission for Reginald Huth (q.v.), Pinches & Co. struck the unofficial patterns of Victoria, George V, Hawaii, Madagascar, and the Bonomi-Thomas crown of 1837-1887.
- J. EDOUARD ROINÉ French-born medalist of New York who modeled the Henry Hudson daalder for Thomas L. Elder.
- SPINK & SON The famous firm of coin and art dealers of London who published the patterns for Victoria 1887 and Edward VII 1902.
- SPEIR OR SPIRI This signature appears on Henry V of France ½ franc of 1858.
- C.T. On the Cuba patterns of 1870.
- F. TASSET French engraver who may have executed many of the unsigned patterns of Henry V.
- J. ROCHELLE THOMAS A London coin dealer in the latter half of the nineteenth century. In addition to editing a number of portrait medals and the Victoria Bonomi-Thomas crown of 1837-1887, Thomas also restruck the tokens of the Copper Company of Upper Canada.
- NICHOLAS VEEDER See U. S., Eutopia dollar, 1886.
- H. VEYRAT ADRIEN French medalist, 1803-1876, or later. Worked with Würden toward the end and made many medals independently. The V on the South African and Orange Free State issues may be his signature.
- WHITEAVES British medal editor who issued the George IV pattern engraved by Mills.
- HENRI CHARLES WURDEN Belgian medalist born 1849 who made many unofficial pieces-de-fantaisie. Among his works are the Cambodian coins of 1860; Argentine pieces of 1879; Duchy of Bouillon 1815; South Africa and Orange Free State issues of 1874; and probably Andorra and Patagonia. Further evidence that the Cambodian and Bouillon patterns were not made in the years they are dated is clear by Würden's age — it is inconceivable that he could have executed the Cambodian pieces in 1860 when 11 years old.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK

Art in Coins

Theme of National Coin Week, April 18-26, has been changed from "Numismatic Art" to "Art in Coins." This certainly does not rule out paper money, medals or tokens.

Club secretaries have received NCW information which was mailed January 15. It is hoped more clubs will participate and obtain valuable publicity in their own communities.

Awards Chairman Jack Hughes, 501 W. Monte Vista, Phoenix, Ariz. 85004, is making his plans for the proper receipt and judging of the entries.

The 103 members and 25 guests attending the 263rd meeting of the Missouri Numismatic Society of St. Louis on December 9 in the Coronada Hotel all agreed that the Christmas party staged by Co-Chairmen Caroline Boehme and Bernice Stevenson and their able assistants left nothing to be desired. A table decorated with poinsettias and Santas, and displaying a gayly decorated cake with the Society's name and season's greetings inscribed on it, greeted their eyes as they entered the ballroom. No less impressive was the beautiful Christmas tree provided by Hotel Manager and fellow-member Leas Campbell, who outdid himself to provide an atmosphere of warmth, beauty, comfort and convenience. There were presents galore and an aura of festivity prevailed throughout the evening. At the meeting preceding the program, 25th Anniversary Chairman John S. Stevenson announced that Adm. O. H. Dodson, U.S.N. (Ret.), past president of A.N.A. and presently Director of the Money Museum of the National Bank of Detroit, will be the guest speaker at the February 10 anniversary meeting. Members are urged to reserve this date for an outstanding meeting which will embody a number of unusual and interesting features. Acting Membership Chairman Edward Boehme, Sr. announced the existence of 35 year-end membership vacancies, and that the present eighteen applicants and others which may be received will be interviewed for membership at the January 13 meeting. This is significant in view of the maximum of 300 members which the Society has imposed. Board Member Al Wick reported the purchase of a tape recorder and a slide projector to add to the Society's educational features. President Charles Page acknowledged and extended best wishes to the several new coin clubs in the vicinity, and urged everyone to refer to our Society by its full name in the future to avoid confusion and mistaken identity. Jerry Hillebrand quickly captured and held the attention of the audience as he vividly narrated slides relating to the very timely subject: "Coins in Religion - Religion in Coins." He covered and later displayed such coins as the Widow's Mite, Tribute Penny, Stater of Antioch, Shekel of Tyre, Lepton of Pontius Pilate and many others of religious-historical significance which attest to the religious beliefs of man. A sad but meaningful note was injected when all present stood for a minute of silent prayer in remembrance of recently deceased charter member Art Kelley. A native of St. Louis and the first president of Central States Numismatic Society. Mr. Kelley died November 18 in the Jewish Hospital in St. Louis. He was a long-time dealer and member of P.N.C., and was very well known in numismatic circles everywhere.

— BERNICE STEVENSON, Sec.

Members and guests attending the October and November meetings of the Santa Barbara Coin Club were fortunate in hearing two outstanding guest speakers. Ronnie Carr of Tulare spoke on United States and Territorial gold coinage at the October 21 meeting. He told of first becoming interested in gold while attending a 1958 convention. No matter how many beautiful bronze and silver coins were in a display, the small case of gold drew every visitor's attention, and he realized then that gold was the awe inspiring item. Carr advised that California gold can be found in the Mormon pieces as well as in Alaskan coinage. They had the dies but not the gold. He commented on the recent Walton sale, which he attended, and ended his talk with a very lively question and answer period.

A.N.A. Second Vice President Herbert M. Bergen of Fullerton addressed the November 18 meeting on half dimes and dimes of the United States. He told about the government's early decision to mint coins and passage of the first coinage act in April, 1792. One of the coins designated was the half dime, a coin and name which fit into the decimal system. The Colonists were used to such a name from the English half-penny, halfcrown and halfguinea. Bergen traced the half dime through the various designs and types until 1873, when its issuance was discontinued. He also commented on some of the rarities, including the 1802. Getting into the dimes, Bergen advised us that none were struck until 1796, and then they were minted only intermittently until 1827. Since then they have been struck continuously to the present date, excepting only 1922, 1932 and 1933. He described in considerable detail the various types and designs of the U. S. dime. His display of dimes and half dimes was viewed with pleasure by many who had never seen some of the earlier issues before. In closing, Bergen commented on the advantages of collecting U. S. coins by types but said that it does something to the collector of series by making certain type coins much in demand and more expensive. The 1796 quarter, for example, is not as rare as the 1804 quarter, yet the price of the 1796 is about five times higher because it is the one you need for the first type. — GWEN SENTIS, Sec.

At the November meeting of Philadelphia Coin Club the following officers were elected: President Alex Kaptik; First Vice President Byron Hoke; Second Vice President Thomas Werner; Treasurer William Starkey; and Secretary Willard Hinkle. Speaker of the evening was Dr. John H. Jenny, Supervisor of Health, Physical Education and Safety for Wilmington, Del. He gave an outstanding talk and an excellent exhibit on "Atts, Bahts and Bullets." The seldom heard topic of ancient coins of Siam and Thailand was received by the large audience with enthusiasm. — WILLARD HINKLE, Sec.

The Warrensville Heights (Ohio) Coin Club is making big plans for its third annual show to be held April 17-19 in the Somerset Inn, 3550 Northfield Road in Cleveland. Dr. Walter C. Loveland, 2101 S. Taylor Road, Cleveland Heights, and Anthony Rinaldi are co-chairmen of the affair. They have announced that seventy dealers will represent the United States and Canada in the bourse and that there will be many new exhibits that have never been shown in this area before. During the week prior to the show, the Van Aken Shopping Center, in which the Somerset Inn is located, will feature a series of "Coins Around the World" displays. A different display will be shown in each shop window, with the coins of a particular nation, its flag and a doll in native costume included. An auction will be held each day. Arthur Sandstrom is bourse chairman, and may be contacted at 3908 East 189th St., Cleveland, Ohio, 44122. — MRS. HENRY ENGELMAN, Publ. Chm.

The Council of Greater Cleveland Coin Clubs is sponsoring a late winter show March 7, 8, at the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel. An auction by the Cleveland Coin Auctions, a limited bourse and exhibits are on the program. Rudy Leuckart is General Chairman and Ted Shilkly is Co-Chairman. Bourse Chairman is Matt Gazso, assisted by Ray Schultheis.

R. E. Culbertson was recently elected president of the Fort Worth Coin Club. Other officers are: Everet L. Frazier, vice president; Mrs. J. K. Howarth, secretary; Mrs. Nora Lee Mercer, treasurer; Mrs. R. E. Culbertson, corresponding secretary; and Directors C. W. Brock, Eliot Cashdan, Joe Neal, Howard W. Luke and B. J. Moss. With 125 members and guests attending, the Club's annual Christmas dinner was held December 6 at the Hotel Texas. Our third annual convention will be held in the grand ballroom of this hotel on Sept. 26-27. Those wishing further information or reservations should write to Gen. Chm. Eliot Cashdan, 415 Main St., Ft. Worth, Texas. — MRS. R. E. CULBERTSON, Corr. Sec.

Twenty-two members and thirteen wives of North Central Kansas Coin Club met on December 4 for the annual Christmas party, at which the wives are the guests of honor. The annual election of officers was held with the following results: President Ferril Laman; Vice President Charles Jewell; Secretary-Treasurer John J. Smies; and Directors Charles Cox, John F. Baldwin, E. Phil Smith and Vic Stanford. Many exhibits were entered in competition for the annual "E. Phil Smith" award and judging was close. The beautiful trophy, appropriately engraved, went to Everitt Higgins for his display of U. S. type coins. Our patient and understanding wives enjoyed seeing the A.N.A. slide set of "Famous Women on Coins and Medals," and I'm sure the rest of us learned some things from the slides, also. — JOHN J. SMIES, Sec.-Treas.

The Western Reserve Numismatic Club held its 506th meeting December 11 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Cleveland and elected the following officers for 1964: President S. Fred Rosenthal; First Vice President Dr. Howard Law; Second Vice President Rudy Leuckart; Secretary-Treasurer Fred N. Hahlen; and Curator Otto Budde. Fred Rosenthal spoke on "Lincoln and Numismatics," and displayed Lincoln campaign tokens, Lincoln's book of speeches, the 1899 $1 certificate and 1914 $5 Federal Reserve note bearing his portrait, and various medals by many designers, including his death medal with the broken column inscribed "Peace and Glory, a Nation in Tears." Other exhibits included Al Schafer with medals of the four assassinated Presidents of the U. S.; Joseph Sawicki, ancient tribute pennies of Tiberius, one in silver and one in gold, and a shekel of Tyre; and Dr. Sargis who showed Lincoln medals and told us the meaning of Abraham, "Son of Mercy." — FRED N. HAHLEN, Sec.

Forty-seven members of the NRC Coin Club attended the December 9 meeting in the Northrop Engineering and Science Bldg., Hawthorne, Calif. A special guest speaker, in the person of Mrs. Joy Parrish, gave a most interesting talk on her unusual collection which she exhibited. A nationally known numismatist who has exhibited widely, Mrs. Parrish explained that she is also an ex- numist, that is, one who collects medals, tokens and other items related to coins. Her exhibit contained coins and Civil War tokens and medals, which she described and gave the incident behind the acquisition of many items. We received some very good advice from her about properly grouping and exhibiting collections for the enjoyment of others. President Bill Schmidt presented a 1955 proof set to Mrs. Parrish as a token of our appreciation. — T. M. FREDERICK, Sec.

At the Christmas party of Antelope Valley Coin Club the 1964 officers were installed. Peggy Borgolte first thanked the outgoing officers for their fine work and then installed the following new ones: President Jack Wiley; Vice President George Burke; Secretary Carmen Wiley; Treasurer Florence Kurfess; and Board Members Carl Oshel and Bernice Waldrip. The Secretary was presented with an honorary life membership plaque for her work in behalf of the Club since its founding in 1956. We have rented a post office box and all mail should be addressed to the Club at P. O. Box 190, Lancaster, Calif. — MRS. CARMEN WILEY, Sec.

Toronto Coin Club's Fall rally on November 23 was opened by President John Curtis with a period of silent respect for two men who died bravely in the line of executive duty: Donald Summerville, Mayor of Toronto, after playing hockey to aid flood victims in Italy; and John Fitzgerald Kennedy, President of the United States, victim of an assassin's bullet. Some twenty cities or towns were represented by those in attendance, including two cities in the States. Sterling service in the cause of our Club earned presentations to Mrs. Louise Graham, Miss Kathleen Richards and Fred Jewett, respectively president, secretary and treasurer in 1962. Each tribute consisted of a jewel (or cigarette) box in fine wood, the lid bearing a suitably inscribed metal plate, as well as a silver "Armouries" medal — released that day. Hard-working 1963 Vice President H. A. Craig received a life membership and one of the silver medals in recognition of meritorious service. The brief meeting gave way to Jim Charlton's exciting auction of over $75,000 worth of coins, tokens and medals, which was attended by nearly 500 and registered some striking price advances. Examples are as follows: three-inch Canadian Confederation medal of 1867 in silver sold for $1025 and for $260 in bronze; bronze medals of Governors General Bessborough, Alexander and Massey brought $50 each; brilliant proof 1939 silver dollar realized $310; 1943 Canadian steel cent $850; 1953 Canadian proof-like set with straps, $800; a 1954 Canadian strapless set, $370. Bourse tables were busy through the 1 to 11 p.m. day, and exhibits of unusually high quality were on display. Alex Munro's superb "Seafaring" collection scooped all categories, followed closely by the winner in the ancient group, Bruce Brace, showing coins of the Roman Republic and late emperors. In the foreign class, Bruce's better half, Dorte Brace, climbed to the top with coins of Denmark and the Faroe Islands. May Bunnett, with beautiful commemoratives, carried off the honors in the British and Commonwealth division. Percy Elgie led the pack in Canadian decimals, while Joanne Lavell, who also had a splendid group of Indian Chiefs, was tops in Canadian paper money. MacKay Clements had a dazzling display of British gold, as well as Gesangverein and Repentigay tokens. — MISS FRANCES W. DOANE, Editor

The Ohio Valley Coin Association is ready for its tenth convention to be held March 7-8 at the CIO Hall, 225 South Third St., Steubenville. The bourse space is filled with dealers' reservations from seven states and Canada. Living accommodations are available at the Fort Steuben Hotel located just three blocks from the CIO Hall. Exhibit competition is expected to be the major highlight of the event, with trophies to be awarded the first and second place winners in each category and for the best of show. The doors will open at 11 a.m. Saturday and close at 6 p.m. on Sunday with refreshments available throughout the show from the local Boy Scout troop. Ray Campbell and Edmund Szyplski are the co-chairmen. — DONALD FINNEGAN, CORR. Sec.

Aroused by four weekend thefts of coin collections in the Tulsa, Oklahoma, area, collectors of several clubs are planning to raise funds to help in apprehending and convicting the thieves. "We are forced to band together to protect our hobby," said A. M. McIntosh of Tulsa, whose plan has been adopted by clubs in Tulsa, Sapulpa and Sand Springs. The plan calls for offering rewards for the arrest and conviction of thieves whose haul of rare coins from the eastern Oklahoma area is nearing $75,000. Clubs wanting more information on the action or wishing to join with the local clubs may contact either A. M. McIntosh, 6123 W. Eighth, Tulsa, or Tulsa Coin Club President D. L. Hill, 1102 S. Evanston, Tulsa, Okla. — MISS OZELLA SHAW, Sec.-Treas.

New officers of the Springfield (Mass.) Coin Club, which holds A.N.A. membership number 1631 and recently celebrated its 50th anniversary, are as follows: President Henry Evanson; Vice President Dr. William E. Nessell; Secretary-Treasurer Edward P. Cignoni; Entertainment Chairman Max C. Kaye; Auction Chairman Joseph Demaradzki; Purchasing Chairman Roger H. Gaboury; and Curator A. F. Wurtz. Meetings are held at the Springfield Fine Arts Museum the second Tuesday evening monthly, and both men and women are invited to attend and consider membership. There is convenient parking in the Library parking lot, and we hold an auction at each meeting. — HAROLD E. BOSTWICK, Publ. Chm.

The numismatic event of the year in Phoenix, Arizona, will be the third annual Coin-A-Rama to be held Feb. 21-23 at the Ramada Inn. The Phoenix Coin Club is preparing for a busy three days of exhibits, bourse and a mail-floor auction to be conducted by Charles "Shotgun" Slade of Orlando, Fla. Planned to be at the height of the tourist season, the show is expected to attract many visitors from other parts of the country. General chairman is J. "Ray" Horton, who may be contacted at P. O. Box 10352, Phoenix, Ariz., 85016. Early room reservations, direct with the Ramada Inn., P. O. Box 590, Phoenix, are advised. — FRED MARTINO, Pres.

The Forty-Niner Coin Club of Lynwood, Calif., held its Christmas party and election on December 11, with eighty in attendance. By unanimous vote, the officers for 1964 are: President Edward Barrett; Vice President Walter Snyder; Secretary Ann Hall; Treasurer Andys Grant; and Governors Carson Cantrell, W. K. Endman, Earnest Featherston and D. M. Pickett. A trophy was presented to Ken McGrath for the excellent arrangements he made for the Christmas party, with the aid of Leona Kohl, Helen Brosa, Lula Randall, Daisy Snyder and Regina Webb. The first and second place exhibit winners during the year at monthly meetings competed for the year end awards, with the outcome as follows: first — Lila Barrett, gold coins; second — Elmer Hess, U. S. coins depicting the American Indian; third — Melvin Kohl, world crowns and Mexican coins; fourth — Earnest Featherston, foreign, ancient and commemorative coins. Visitors are welcomed to our meetings in the second Wednesday evening monthly in the Recreation Center at Bullis Road and Century Blvd. in Lynwood. — LILA M. BARRETT, Sec.

The Nation's Capital Coin Club, formed in the Spring of 1963, now boasts a membership of 250, has a program at each monthly meeting, and publishes a monthly bulletin called "Nation's Capital Coin Club News." — LAURESE BYRD GORDON, Editor

With fifty-five members and guests present, the San Gabriel Valley Coin Club held its December 18 meeting in the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena. At this meeting each year we hold a donated auction, with all proceeds going to pay the next year's expenses. — C. L. STRATTON, Publ. Chm.

With a number of well-known names among the 7,000 visitors, a lively bourse of eighty tables, and excellent exhibits, the Las Vegas Numismatic Society counts its first annual show a complete success. It was held in the beautiful Hotel Sahara on the "Fabulous Strip" on November 16-17, with Mint Director Miss Eva Adams as the guest of honor. Since Miss Adams was born in Nevada and lived most of her life there, it was a real treat to have her back home. Among the other notable guests were R. S. Yeoman of Whitman Publishing Co.; Louis Werner of New York City, well known as Sergeant-at-Arms at so many A.N.A. conventions, and the Dan Browns of Denver, who had charge of the A.N.A.

1963 convention. At the Saturday evening cocktail party, sixteen beautiful trophies were awarded to the exhibit winners in five classes, presentations being made by Miss Adams. Winners were: foreign coins — first place and Best-of-Show, Alex Struthers, Las Vegas, second, Dottie Dow, third, Caly Read; U.S. coins — Albertus Hooeven, Pomona, California, Tom Mason and Jess Hooeven; gold coins — Ben J. Adams, Canoga Park, California, Earnest Meyers and Paul Franklin; paper money and misc. — Earnest Meyers, San Francisco, Dottie Dow and Cecil Kariker; junior collectors — Gary Snell and Glenn Carolino, both of Miss Eva Adams, Director of the Mint, presenting the trophy for first place in American coins to Albertus Hooeven, Pomona, Calif.

Las Vegas. Officers of the Society are: President Paul J. Richert, Vice President Richard Plout, Secretary Bernice Waddell, and Treasurer Mike Timm. General Chairman of the show was Carl G. Taylor. Plans under way for the 1964 show will include an auction, much more space for exhibits, and possibly a few more bourse tables.

The Essex County Coin Club held its December 10 meeting at the Crestmont Savings Bank in Maplewood, N. J. with thirty-five in attendance. The speaker of the evening was George Wait, Secretary of the Society of Paper Money Collectors, who is an expert on paper money and in demand as a speaker on the subject. George covered the subject from the beginning, using his exhibit of a great variety of notes to illustrate his fine talk. Starting with the Ming note of decapitating fame, his exhibit took us through Canadian playing card money, Colonial notes, the Continental issues on which one finds the terse phrase "Exitus In Dubio Est," notes of the U.S. chartered banks and state banks — colorful notes but in many cases short-lived as money, Mormon notes and on into the Federal notes. Some of the obsolete notes were counterfeits, spurious, altered and even raised denominations; all were fascinating and historically important. George received a nice hand for his dedication to the subject, interesting talk and excellent display. Five new members were admitted to the Club before we adjourned to the regular sociable coffee and refreshment period. — JAMES A. BROWN, Sec.

At its December meeting, the Montgomery County Coin Club elected the following 1964 officers: President Walter Mason, Jr.; Vice President James Lund; Treasurer Walter Miller; Secretary Mae L. Clarke; Sergeant-at-Arms Jay Cox; and Governors Ted Freter and James Houser. B. M. Douglas was elected MANA delegate, with George Huth as alternate. The program was a fun game fashioned after "The Price Is Right" program. — MAE L. CLARKE, Sec.

President Dave Lane proposed, at the November 29 meeting of Regina Coin Club, that a permanent display of Saskatchewan tokens be started to preserve these historic items in a collection for the benefit of members and the general public. The idea was accepted and Lane donated a 1959 gold C.N.A. convention medal to initiate the project. A committee will be appointed to accept donations and obtain items from other sources, and to arrange a permanent public display after sufficient material has been accumulated. Peter L. Money, C.N.A. No. 1284, was the speaker of the evening and gave an impressive talk on ancient Greek coinage. Discussing the various types and their places of origin, he began with coins of the period 685-652 B.C. and followed through the periods of the Greek States and colonies. His talk was excellently illustrated with a hundred ancient coins of many types and metals. Superb specimens in gold and silver were particularly attractive, and his coins were all identified so that members could enjoy and appreciate fully what was displayed. — B. A. RENWICK, Sec.-Treas.

The gavel of the presidency of the Grand Prairie Coin Club was passed from Clarence Durden to Lorey Arnold in an election at the December 17 meeting. Ellis Walker was elected vice president and "Chuck" Waldo was chosen secretary-treasurer. The new board of directors includes Dr. J. P. Dekker, E. B. Gebhardt, D. B. Nichols and Fred Schuessler, with Agnys S. Williams appointed corresponding secretary. This Club was founded in 1956 and now has a roster of 139 members. It welcomes visitors to the regular meetings held the third Tuesday evening monthly at the First National Bank in Grand Prairie, Texas. — AGNYS S. WILLIAMS, Corr. Sec.

The Denver Coin Club held a charity auction of items donated by members at its December 11 meeting. The proceeds, amounting to $237, were donated to Laradon Hall, a home and school for retarded children. Director F. Wm. Happ and his wife were present at the auction and received the donation with gratitude. Officers for 1964 were elected as follows: President Charles Nelson, First Vice President Floyd Shaffer, Second Vice President Berry Oliver, Third Vice President Alice Dudich, Secretary Barbara Rader, and Treasurer Gordon Greenwald. These officers will be installed at the January 25 annual banquet at the Heart O' Denver Motel. Home made Christmas cookies and coffee were served at the close of the meeting. — MRS. ALICE DUDICH, Publ. Chm.

The Mississippi Numismatic Association will hold its annual convention March 21-22 in the Olympic and Victory Rooms of the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson. Attendance is expected to exceed the 5,000 visitors from twenty-six states who saw the 1963 show. Byron W. Cook,

P. O. Box 181, Jackson, Miss. is general chairman. — DANIEL T. ANDERSON.

With an attendance of 156 members and guests, the Steel City Coin Club held its twentieth meeting Sunday afternoon, December 1. Six new members were accepted, bringing the total membership to 181. After the business meeting, a Christmas buffet luncheon was served by the ladies of the club. Many second helpings attested to the excellent food which the ladies had prepared. Christmas music was played during the afternoon, and Santa Claus appeared after the meal with presents for all. We invite anyone interested in numismatics in the Lackawanna area to attend our meetings, and would especially like to have more junior collectors in the club. — FRANK INCAVO, Corr. Sec.

The Meridian (Miss.) Area Coin Club held its annual Christmas party and election of officers on December 3. The following officers will serve during 1964: President Charles Herfurth, First Vice President Mrs. Dorris Curry, Second Vice President Edgar Manuel, Jr., and Secretary-Treasurer Frank Bellina. — EDGAR MANUEL, JR., Sec.-Treas.

New officers were elected at the December 5 meeting of the Key City Coin Club, as follows: President Paul Washburn, First Vice President Robert Larson, Second Vice President K. O. Stephens, and Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. Beth Geiger. Robert Larson, chairman of the library committee, reported that the books voted by the club had been purchased and presented to the Abilene Public Library. He reported also that A. G. Mire of the Abilene Coin Shop had donated several books to the library at the same time. We plan to make regular contributions such as this as part of our educational program. The acceptance of five new members brings to forty-three the number added during the year. — PAUL WASHBURN, Past Sec.-Treas.

The December 12 meeting of Big Spring Coin Club was a combined Christmas party and election, with Daniel D. Kester being elected president to succeed W. E. Wozencraft. Dr. Cal Williams was elected vice president, Mrs. Victor Barlow the new secretary and Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle is treasurer. Elected directors were Emory Parrish, Dale Smith, Ed Valenta and W. E. Wozencraft, the latter being elected club representative to the Texas Numismatic Association also. Wozencraft was nominated by the club as a candidate for District 3 governor of T.N.A., because Ed Valenta withdrew his name from nomination for that post. In behalf of the membership, Mrs. M. L. Kirby presented a gold piece to the outgoing president in appreciation for his services during the year. Following the business meeting, the fifty in attendance enjoyed a Christmas party, with coffee and cookies for refreshment. The decorated cookies were on a bright table adorned with a colorful Christmas cloth and a basket of holly and candles in the center. — LEE SANDERSON, Sec.

The Washington Numismatic Association held its election of officers at the December 9 meeting at 4201 Albemarle St., N.W. The following were chosen to serve in 1964: President, Captain Gordon Keating, USN; Vice President Vernon Bigsby; Treasurer Eldridge G. Jones; Secretary Mae L. Clarke; Sergeant-at-Arms Wayne Franklin; Governors Herb Price and G. H. Sandy; MANA Delegate Joseph A. Clarke and Alternate Paul Burdette. Speaking on "Why Collect Ancient Coins" was guest speaker Mrs. Elvira Clain-Stefanelli, Asst. Curator of Numismatics at Smithsonian Institution. With excellent slides, she illustrated how we can learn the history of nations, since early coins depicted life, politics, religion, the people and their rulers. Many of us were surprised to learn how much can be portrayed on such a small surface of metal. — MAE L. CLARKE, Sec.

Expecting an attendance greater than last year's 3,000, larger quarters have been secured for the annual show of the South Plains Coin Club, which will be held March 14-15 at the lavish Koko Palace, adjacent to the Koko Inn Motel, 5301 Ave. Q in Lubbock, Texas. Exhibits Chairman Bob Medlar promises an even greater display of rare and beautiful coins than was seen last year. General Chairman Jon Coll. 5111 34th, Lubbock reports a few bourse tables available at the time of the December meeting at $25 each. — R. Q. PIERCE, Pres.

The Piasa Bird Coin Club will hold its third annual Coin-O-Rama April 19 at the Minearl Springs Hotel in Alton, Ill. Chairman William Cress may be contacted at P. O. Box 20, Alton, Ill.

The sixth annual Southern Colorado coin show will be held June 5-7 by the Zebulon Pike Coin Club, under the direction of General Chairman Henry Stark. It will be in the Antlers Hotel in Colorado Springs. Exhibit Chairman Herman Boraker, P. O. Box 204, Rocky Ford, Colo., announces that a $50 savings bond will be awarded to the best in show exhibitor, in addition to ribbons and trophies in the various classes. Leonard Campbell, P. O. Box 133, Colorado Springs, will handle the bourse.

WICHITA OFFICERS

which is limited to 25 tables at $35 each. The well known Colorado dealer, Al Overton, will hold an auction of 1,000 lots in two sessions. And finally, it is planned to make the Saturday evening banquet a truly gala affair. — RALPH F. CLEAVER, Pres.

After two organizational meetings, the Sylacauga Coin Collectors Club was formed on December 4 with thirty-two charter members from Sylacauga, Alpine, Childersburg and Goodwater, Ala. Dr. Walter B. Jones, President of Alabama Numismatic Society, directed the organization of the new Club. Officers are: President A. R. Moseley, Jr.; Vice President Kenneth L. Williams; and Mrs. Mildred Horton, Secretary-Treasurer. Meetings will be held the fourth Thursday evening monthly. — A. R. MOSELEY, JR., Pres.

The Pawcatuck Valley Coin Club will hold its second annual show on March 1 at the Stonington Town Hall on Elm Street in Stonington, Conn. We are planning competitive exhibits with awards, a bourse and door prizes. There is plenty of parking space and catered refreshments will be available, according to General Chairman Eugene Shortman, 6 Winthrop Ave., Pawcatuck, Conn. — MAR- IAN BAILEY, Sec.

The Monrovia-Covina Coin Clubs have announced that Sunday, March 22, has been designated for their third annual Coin-A-Rama, which is being planned as a memorial to the late W. E. "Mel" Melton, popular numismatist, president of Covina Coin Club, and general chairman of the past two Coin-A-Ramas. Mr. Melton passed away recently and both clubs feel the loss of a devoted member and friend. The event will be held in the Monrovia Elks Lodge, of which Mr. Melton was an Exalted Ruler. The lodge has graciously donated its facilities for the day for the bourse, exhibits, auction, etc. The Century Coin and Stamp Co., of Los Angeles will conduct the auction and a snack bar will be handled by the "Future Nurses Club" of the Monrovia High School. The sweepstakes trophy, designated this year as the Melton Memorial Trophy, will be awarded to the exhibit judged best in the show. Frank Strauss has been named General Chairman and may be contacted for further information by addressing the Monrovia-Covina Coin Clubs, P. O. Box 64, Monrovia, Calif., 91017.

The Tri-County Coin Club held a banquet at Ye Olde Tavern in Brookfield, Mass., to celebrate its tenth anniversary in November. Maurice M. Gould, who was the club's first guest speaker, returned to speak on this special occasion. The club looks back on a successful decade since seventeen persons met on November 12, 1953, to organize it; and feels that its future is bright under fine leadership and the motto "Dedicated to the Ideals of Friendship and Fair Dealings."

The November 19 meeting of North East Ohio Coin Club drew an attendance of 240 members and guests to hear a representative of the Secret Service, who displayed and spoke on counterfeit paper money and coins. His talk was both interesting and informative. An election of officers for 1964 resulted in the following: President Bill Halliwell; First Vice President Jerome Price; Second Vice President Thomas Ashton; Treasurer Guy Waltman; Recording Secretary Rose F. Engelman; and Corresponding Secretary Liede Ross. Our meetings are held the third Tuesday monthly in the Tudor Arms Hotel in Cleveland. — MRS. HENRY ENGELMAN, Publ. Chm.

An extensive program of expansion and improvement is being undertaken by the Tonawanda Numismatic Society. The newly elected officers have formulated and announced plans for a membership drive coupled with expansion of bourse and auction activities. The officers include President Lawrence Block, Vice President Clifford Neupert, and Secretary-Treasurer Harold B. Rice. Meetings are held the first and third Mondays monthly in well-lighted quarters at the Niagara County Savings Bank, 1012 Paine Ave., North Tonawanda, N. Y. Bourse tables are available at no cost. President Block emphasizes that prospective new members are particularly welcome at all meetings. — LAWRENCE BLOCK, Pres.

The Michigan City (Ind.) Coin Club elected the following officers for 1964 at its November 20 meeting: President Albert Hall, Vice President Jim Kelly, Treasurer Robert Peters, Secretary Virginia Hall, and Directors Robert Brannen, Tom Eisle and Robert Kolasa. Plans are under way for a two-day show to be held in the fall. — VIRGINIA HALL, Sec.

The Madison Coin Club has plans well formulated for the annual convention of Numismatists of Wisconsin to be held June 5-7 in the Park Motor Inn. One of the newest and finest hotels in Madison, the Inn is located on the square in downtown Madison. It is expected that this convention will be the largest numismatic event in Wisconsin during the year. A banquet will be held after the bourse closes Saturday evening so that everyone may attend without interference with other show activities. Bourse chairman is Gordon Gill, 3614 Spring Trail, Madison, Wis. — RONALD L. CALKINS, Gen. Chm.

Members of the Dayton Coin Club elected the following officers for 1964 at the December 5 meeting: President Cyril Grillot; Vice President Edward Huff; Secretary Bill Leonard II; Treasurer Harry Vosmer; Sergeant at Arms John LaBranchie; and Curator Roy Eller. All correspondence to the Club should be sent to the secretary at 9015 Wolf Creek Pike, Dayton, Ohio, 45426. This club, with more than a hundred members, is beginning its twenty-seventh year and welcomes guests at its meetings the first Thursday monthly in the Washington Federal Savings and Loan Building in Dayton. — MELVIN E. GLASS, Past Pres.

The Big Horn Basin Coin Club and the Fremont County Coin Club, hosts for the 1964 North West Central States Numismatic Association, announce that the dates for the annual convention are April 17-19. It will be held in the Elks Auditorium in Thermopolis, Wyoming, under the direction of General Chairman Roy Prickett, P. O. Box 1072, Thermopolis, Wyo., 82344. — ALENA AUSTIN, Sec.

The third annual show of the Reading Coin Club, held November 22-24 in the Abraham Lincoln Hotel, drew over 3,000 visitors in spite of closing several hours Friday afternoon after the assassination of President Kennedy became known. Widespread publicity on radio and TV and in newspapers of the Reading, Penna., area, plus free admission and frequent drawings for door prizes seemed to account for the big turnout. Seventy dealers had tables and many others of the seaboard area attended the show. Fourteen exhibitors showed a wide variety of material for the enjoyment of visitors. The club's fall show is being planned for the same location the weekend of October 30. — CYRUS G. RHODE, Chm.

At the December 4 meeting of the Brooklyn Coin Club, the following were elected to office for 1964: President Eddie Schuman, Vice President Morris Bran, Treasurer Irving Vengrove, and Secretary Max Vlotkoffsky. Michael Granis was elected to the Board of Governors, replacing Emil Voight who had served three years. There were some very fine exhibits, including that of Rev. Frank H. Hutchins which was outstanding. Several exhibits were of fractional currency as a result of viewing the A.N.A. slides of that series at the previous meeting. Some members took exception to certain statements in the slide commentary notes and brought exhibits to prove their points. Phil Ribner gave us an informative talk on "Spanish Gold Doubloons," which was enjoyed by all. — MAX VLOTKOFFSKY, Sec.

The Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society celebrated its eighty-fifth birthday with a banquet on November 16 in Pittsburgh. Headlining the list of numismatists gathered for the event were names such as Marlier, Woodside, Pittman, Byrne, Sloss, Hudson, Burns and Williams. A fine dinner, fascinating exhibits and a bourse made for a memorable evening, planned by Dr. Jim Sloss. The presence of a living legend in the person of 95-year-old George F. Marlier was an outstanding feature of the evening. Mr. Marlier, A.N.A. No. 102 and probably the oldest living numismatist, was presented the A.N.A. Honorary Membership plaque which had been accepted for him at the Denver Convention by Society President Ray Byrne. John Pittman enthralled the sixty-three members and guests with his sparkling comments on numismatics, including an account of the auction of the Palace Collection of Ex-King Farouk. He also conducted a short auction of items donated to the Society for this purpose. The ladies, in particular, were fascinated by John's account of the grandeur of the Egyptian affair and the stimulating excitement of the live auction. It is suspected that some headway was made in the continuing battle to change some wives' feelings that numismatics is only the science of withdrawing from circulation coins which could otherwise be spent.

At the Society's December 3 meeting, a Richland Memorial Hospital parking token from Dallas, Texas, and Captain

Smith's "Hogges" were the unlikely topics of discussion. Harry C. Bartley exhibited and explained the token from the hospital which now has so much significance, and Ray Byrne presented a paper on the story of the Sommer Islands pieces, which he subtitled "Captain Smith's Hogges." In addition to these two exhibits, Richard Foley showed his collection of Sommer Islands pieces, including the original Wuesthoff dies of the XX shilling pieces. Robert S. Porter showed a set of Cape Verde copper of 1930 and other interesting individual pieces. Phil Williams explained his Massachusetts and Connecticut cents and Washington pieces, while Dr. James Sloss exhibited some magnificent gold, including an eight escudo of Colombia and several U. S. 1795 eagles. D. L. Davis discussed an original copy of the book Die Munzen Und Medaillen — Von Coln, and then presented it to the Society's library. — G. A. MOONEY, Sec.-Treas.

With an attendance of 130 members and guests, the Lawndale (Cal.) Coin

Club held its November 17 meeting at 480 Acacia St. in Hawthorne. Nominations for 1964 officers were presented and, there being no nominations from the floor, there will be no election. The following were installed at the January meeting: President Robert Miller; Vice President Hans Honseller; Treasurer D. M. Pickett; Secretary Joy Parrish; and Governors Rupert Bennett, John Burris, Bill Johnson, Joseph Magee and R. R. Thompson. President Edward Barrett presented a plaque to each member he had appointed for various assignments during his tenure in office, in appreciation of the services they rendered. Twenty-seven cases of exhibits were entered by the first and second place winners at monthly meetings during the year, with the following being awarded gold pieces at the year end: first, a $10 coin, B. B. Crow; second, a $5 coin, Lila Barrett; third, a $2.50 coin, Melvin Kohl. We welcome visitors to our meetings the third Sunday afternoon monthly. — LILA M. BARRETT, Sec.

Seventy-five members and guests enjoyed another of Program Chairman John Paradowski's unusual programs at the November meeting of Compton (Cal.) Coin Club. Three articles were read from early editions of the N.A.S.C. Quarterly. Lila Randall read "I Am a Coin" by Mel Kohl, Leona Kohl read an article about Karl Brainard, and John Paradowski read one about Walter Snyder. All of these are members of the Club. Mel Kohl won first place among the exhibitors with his Mexican type set, and Wayne Dennis was second with Morgan dollars. Guests are always welcomed to our meetings the third Wednesday evening monthly at Compton Recreation Center. — MRS. M. W. DENNIS, Sec.

The annual election of officers was held at the November meeting of St. Petersburg Coin Club, the following being chosen to serve during 1964: President Ed Harang; First Vice President J. Marshall English; Second Vice President Henry Lisk; Third Vice President Peter Morrison; Secretary Pat Harang; Treasurer Ramo Corteggiano; Librarian Gil Zeller; and Directors (one year) Marvin Bradshaw, Fred Fish, Barbara Nightingale, Gil Zeller, (two years) Harry Adams, Ted Kitchen and Joe Person. Winter visitors to our Sunshine City are cordially invited to attend our meetings the third Friday evening monthly at the Florida Power Idea Center, 16th St. at 1st Ave., North, in St. Petersburg. — BARBARA NIGHTINGALE, Publ. Chm.

Thirty-five members and guests braved below zero weather to attend the December 17 meeting of Calgary (Alberta) Coin Association. The program "Coinage of Newfoundland" was well worth the effort. Shown through the courtesy of Vancouver Coin Society, the thirty color slides and well prepared commentary sparked new interest in the Newfoundland decimal series. Committee Chairman Jim L'Hérault expressed approval of the many fine displays on view at our Public Display Night held December 2. Special congratulations were extended to Murray Weston, whose New Zealand display took best-of-show, and to our President Dave Ritchie, who took first place in three categories. Librarian Lawrence Hall reported the binding of nine more volumes of The Numismatist. Through the generosity of Prof. A. R. Prince, our first president, the library now boasts a complete set of issues of The Canadian Numismatic Journal and an almost complete set of The Numismatist. — D. M. STEWART, Reporter

Eugene Morris was elected recently to serve his fourth term as president of the Forest City (Iowa) Coin Club. Other officers are C. D. Fox, vice president, and Paul Osnes, secretary-treasurer. This wide-awake club has seventy-five members from twenty towns and rural areas in northern Iowa and southern Minnesota, and holds its meetings the second Tuesday monthly in the Forest City I.O.O.F. Hall. Anyone traveling through the area is invited to attend our meeting. We will hold our fourth annual show in the City Auditorium on April 4-5 and invite collectors to make exhibits. All bourse space is sold but we invite other inquiries, which should be addressed to President Eugene Morris, who is general chairman of the show, Forest City, Iowa. — PAUL OSNES, Sec.

President P. K. Anderson of A.N.A. was the guest speaker at the November meeting of Northern Oklahoma Coin Club in Ponca City. About sixty members and guests were delighted with "P.K.'s" rendition of his childhood in Oklahoma and of many incidents during the years he spent working and collecting coins in South America. We were surprised to learn that his collection consists of over six thousand pieces of which only six are U. S. coins. He is currently collecting early Oklahoma store and merchant's tokens. — B. H. MONCRIEF, Sec.

The Covina (Cal.) Coin Club announces with deepest regret the death of its President, W. E. "Mel" Melton on November 3. A very active member of the Club, Mr. Melton served on the executive board last year and was general chairman of the very successful Monrovia-Covina "Coinerama" the past two years. Each of us feels a great loss in his passing. — BEVERLY CHARPENTEIR, Sec.

Over ninety persons heard Bob Gamble give an interesting talk on "U. S. Currency" at the November meeting of Torrance Coin Club. Bob covered everything from fractional currency (known as "shin plasters") to current paper money. He explained the various issues of large size bills, known as "horse blankets," issued during and following the Civil War. Program Chairman Foster Hall presented a Certificate of Appreciation to Gamble for his fine talk. Mrs. Vena Crow, a guest, had a display of "Keys and Semi-Keys." Other exhibitors were: Mel Kohl, Mexican type set; Mrs. Nellie Kuska, coins of Mexico; Wayne Dennis, Morgan dollars; and Minerva Axelrod, a 156-year-old issue of the New York Evening Post dated February 7, 1807, which contained an advertisement of a coin dealer wanting to buy coins. Following the meeting, everyone enjoyed turkey sandwiches with dressing, stuffed celery and other refreshments. We welcome visitors to meetings the third Tuesday evening monthly at 3341 Torrance Blvd., Torrance, Calif. — MRS. M. W. DENNIS, Corr. Sec.

At its December meeting, the Austin Texas Coin Club elected the following officers: President J. R. Adkerson; Vice President Lyman Bartee; Secretary W. W. Hardy; Treasurer E. M. Rice; Curator Max Wilder, and Directors Ray Kirkpatrick and Verlin Nethery. Retiring President John Mayfield becomes an ex-officio member of the Board. During the past year, the Club sponsored an exhibit during National Coin Week and held its fourth annual "Money Mart" in November. Meetings were held the second Wednesday monthly with a variety of programs and informal auctions featured. We welcome new members in both junior and senior classes. — ROBERT E. GREENWOOD, Retiring Director

The November 20 meeting of Milwaukee Numismatic Society was another outstanding one. The introduction of visitors always elicits some interesting collecting preferences. One visitor remarked that he collects any material that is unusual—quite a field of activity. A good library is becoming a must for the club that seeks to develop numismatists out of coin collectors, and we were happy to add three fine ones to ours. How Money Has Developed, by A. Groom, and Ancient Coins, by Akerman, 1846, are good source books, and Counterfeit Gold Coins, by A. Dieffenbacher is a classic in its field. Our Vice President, Chuck Opitz, who recently returned from his stint of army duty, was the speaker of the evening. Since he specializes in odd and curious money, he told us about early forms of money used in the Polynesian group, which includes the Tonga or Friendly Islands. His exhibit included a whale tooth, boar tusk, coral necklace and Job's tears seeds used in trading. While stationed in the East, he was able to acquire a nice collection of obsolete bank notes in sheets, which make an eye-catching display and are an inexpensive field of collecting as compared to U. S. coins. Swaying palms, white sand beaches and beautiful Polynesian girls was the word background for a talk and display of the new Tonga coin-stamp set from a fascinating South Sea paradise. Walter Boeyer narrated the historical background of these far-away islands, and Robert Kellner exhibited the stamp set. Harry Collura told the story behind the Lady Godiva Coventry token and reminded us that Coventry was the target of the gigantic bombing raid by Hitler's airforce. His latest acquisition, a Pancho Villa one peso coin dated 1915, led him a merry search. Gale Highsmith exhibited a very large silver bar, weighing 200 oz., and a sheet of 6, 7, 8 and 9 dollar obsolete bank notes. Since November ushered in the deer hunting season in Wisconsin, some of our hunters challenged the display committee to exhibit numismatic items pertaining to fishing and hunting. Rising to the occasion, members showed copper coins from Buck Island in denominations of one buck and a half-buck; a souvenir buck made from genuine Central Oregon deer skin in commemoration of the 1959 centennial of Bend, Oregon, with the inscription "Spend a little doe—get a buck." Another set of four souvenir "bucks" were printed on cowhide and issued by Lake County in Oregon, showing a deer, mallard duck and fish on one side with the inscription "Sportsmen's Paradise." Combining ingenuity and effort, it is surprising what topics can be illustrated by numismatic items. — WALTER BOEYER, Librarian

The Atlantic City (N.J.) Coin Club announces that its meetings are being held now the third Sunday afternoon monthly at the La Concha Hotel, Broadwalk at Montpelier Ave., and that guests are welcome at all meetings. Fifty-four members attended the December meeting at which the following officers were installed: President Jim McNeill; Vice President Terry Gaston; Secretary Bob Paige; Treasurer Marty Weissman; Sergeant-at-Arms Frank Janczuk, and Trustees Sam Burgdorf, Harmer Cole, Sara McNeill, Mary Napier and Mortimer Nappen. April 25-26 was set for the Club's annual convention. — JIM MCNEILL, Pres.

The Hawaii Cal-Pacific Numismatic Association held its convention in Honolulu on November 22-24. With the tragic news of President Kennedy's assassination on opening day, the show was closed and all events, including the banquet, were cancelled. The show reopened on Saturday and 1,100 visitors registered to see the bourse and many exhibits. Forty cases of exhibits were shown and more than a few of the 17 bourse tables were shared by two dealers. The Association has plans underway for a bigger and better convention in 1964, with exact dates in November and location to be announced soon. — LORRAINE MCAFEE, Sec.

The Queens County Coin Club elected new officers at the December meeting held at its new headquarters in the James A. Philips Association Bldg. in Rego Park, N.Y. Chosen to lead the Club in 1964 were: President George P. Linneman; Vice President Roy Taylor; Secretary Martha Nash; Treasurer Frank Favoino; Corresponding Secretary William DeCaro, and Governors Rene Benedetti, Robert Savage and Edward Schuman. — RENE J. BENEDETTI, Publ. Chm.

The Odessa (Texas) Coin Club held its December 12 meeting in the First National Bank's Community Room and elected officers for 1964 as follows: President Louis R. Goodwin, Vice President W. M. Allison, Jr., Secretary Thelma Maxwell, and Treasurer Mrs. Mary Wright. Talks were made by Mike Panther on the "U.S. Dollar Bill," and by Hollice Clark on "Counterfeit Gold Coins." The Club voted to donate $50 to the TNA Library Fund, and to sponsor W. E. Wozencraft for TNA District III governor. — MRS. THELMA MAXWELL, Sec.

With a record attendance of over fifty members and guests, the Venice Area Coin and Currency Club held its December 11 meeting in the Sarasota Federal Savings and Loan Company's Venice, Fla., office. Officers for 1964 were elected as follows: President F. G. Douglas, Vice President Larry McIntosh, and Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. Sally Stubbs. Ten new members were accepted, bringing the total to forty. The charter members numbered only ten two years ago. At the November meeting a Junior Member class was established, with dues of only $1 a year, and four of the ten new members were in that class. — MRS. SALLY STUBBS, Sec.-Treas.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE ALL FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to Advertising Manager, S. W. Freeman, P. O. Box 591, Newport, Ark. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

All Advertising Copy must be typed. (See Preparation of Copy.)

No mail bid sales listings accepted.

Advertisements must have Numismatic significance.

No Advertising Agency commission allowed.

Position may be requested, but not guaranteed.

No Advertising accepted from minors.

Advertising Contracts: These are available for consecutive months as listed in the table above, and are necessary if reduced rates are to apply. In lieu of contract, reduced rates are granted only upon total advance payment for the period desired. If new copy has not been received by the 5th of the month, the previous month's advertisement will be used.

References: All advertisers, including members, who submit copy for the first time are required to furnish banking and trade references.

Available Space Units: Space units are limited to those listed in the table above or multiples or combinations thereof.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising Copy must be typed on paper of good quality, preferably 8½" x 11", and double spaced. Under no conditions should advertising copy be included in the body of the letter of transmittal, but should be typed separately, and stapled or clipped to the letter. Trade names may be used, but, except for corporations, the name of the proprietor or other responsible person of the firm must also appear unless such person is known to the Advertising Manager, in which case the name will be on file.

Unless under contract, smaller units than one-half page accepted subject to available space in desired issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager, when absolutely necessary, will have engravings made from furnished photographs, at national rates, to be paid for by advertiser.

We cannot accept mats or stereos.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

All items as usual sold with a 5-day return privilege.

We need Colonial and Continental bills, the rarer the better — also many broken bank and obsolete notes — send us a list of what you have or better send us the notes and we will give you our best offer on them.

70% CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance 70% of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it—either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

EMPIRE WANTS TO SPEND $500,000.00!

We want to spend $500,000.00 to build our stock of foreign coins. We are willing to pay you top dollar for any choice or rare coins you have to offer in the following fields:

Coins of Great Britain: All desirable coins wanted. Sets of coins and individual rare coins wanted of all denominations from 1838 to date. Specimen proof sets of 1826, 1839, 1853, 1887, 1893, 1902, 1911, 1927, 1937, 1950, 1951 and 1953. Top prices paid for Maundy coins of all years. Sample buying price: We will pay $30.00 for any Elizabeth II Maundy set . . . this is above our selling price of just a few months ago! English rarities wanted. We will pay $400.00 for a BU 1869 cent; $750.00 for a proof 1877 farthing; $350.00 for a BU 1934 crown; etc.

Crowns of the World: All scarce world crowns wanted . . . all countries, all ages and types. Either single rare pieces or entire collections. Also want dealers' lots of modern crowns such as 1953 New Zealand, 1959 Bermuda, 1925 Salvador, Cuban Issues, etc. No quantity too large or too small for our consideration.

Other Coins of the World: Foreign coins and sets, especially rare issues, wanted from Mexico, all countries of Central America, all countries of South America, France, Germany, etc. Desirable Canadian sets and individual rarities. Foreign specimen sets of all countries and all years. Foreign patterns. Desirable foreign gold coins.

If you have choice foreign coins for sale, it will pay you to see EMPIRE first. Our reputation for paying fair prices is well known, and is amply evidenced by the constant parade of choice coins we offer for sale.

We are also extremely interested in the purchase of United States coins and will welcome any choice properties offered to us. When you sell to Empire you are assured of a fair competitive price for your coins, immediate cash payment in full without delay and a completely confidential transaction. As you know, many of the finest collections which have appeared on the market in recent years have been sold to EMPIRE. We invite you to learn the important reasons why. Your offering of coins for sale will receive our immediate attention. Thinking of selling? Think of EMPIRE first!

Whitman Coin Reference Series

General Francis Ellis Spinner,
the "Father" of U. S. Postage and Fractional Currency

A Guide Book of U. S. FRACTIONAL CURRENCY by Matt Rothert

The fractional currency of the United States is a product of a period of our history full of important events . . . the years 1862 to 1876. It is an interesting series to collect and all aspects are thoroughly covered in this Whitman guide book. You can rely on its up-to-date valuations based on the realistic retail value of each note. You'll appreciate historical references and be pleasantly surprised when you see the excellent illustrations of all types. 81 pages, flexible cover.

The John Fitzgerald Kennedy Memorial Medal

OBVERSE

Will be released approximately February 15, 1964

We believe this memorial medal is a fitting tribute to our late beloved President John F. Kennedy. The obverse is a profile view of our late President, with his terminal dates 1917-1963. The reverse has a border of fifty stars representing our 50 states, with J. F. Kennedy's famous words: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country." Also, to the left, an olive branch representing Peace, and to the right, the oak branch representing Strength, centered by The Eternal Flame. These beautiful medals, in the ever popular Crown Size (slightly larger than a Silver Dollar), will remain the same price as our regular "STATES OF THE UNION SERIES" Medals. We will produce 15,000 pcs. in .999 Fine Silver, 104 pcs. in 3 oz. Troy weight .999 Fine Silver Alphebetacones, 25 pcs. in .999 Fine Platinum, and an unlimited amount of Bronze, Oxidized and Bronze, Silver Satin Oxidized medals. Medals are accompanied by a six-page printed brochure on the highlights of his life. The .999 Silver and Platinum medals will be Proof Finished and Serialized.

BRAND NEW ISSUE

$1.00 Federal Reserve Notes 1963 Series

12 crisp, new, uncirculated $1.00 Federal Reserve notes from the 12 different Federal Reserve Districts as follows:

Boston	Richmond	Minneapolis
New York	Atlanta	Kansas City
Philadelphia	Chicago	Dallas
Cleveland	St. Louis	San Francisco

The complete set of 12 notes ($12.00 face value), each set packaged in acetate holder, for the unbelievable sum of

$15.95 Postpaid

10 Sets for $150.00

The $1.00 bills are of entirely new design and will probably enhance greatly in value if held for a reasonable length of time. The series of 1918 Federal Reserve notes preceding this 1963 series now catalog for $510.00. The premium on one of these sets of 12 $1.00 notes is $3.95. The set of 12 different notes would be beautiful framed in a picture frame for den or office.

We will also offer these $1.00 notes for sale individually — any district of your selection — at $1.75 each postpaid.

SPECIAL!

Classified Listings in the New Membership Directory

At the last meeting of the Board of Governors, it was decided to have Classified Listings, rather than Display Advertisements as had been suggested. It was further decided to limit the listings to A.N.A. members and the price was established for a 3-line listing at $50.00.

Standard Classifications:

COINS — United States

COINS — Foreign, modern

COINS — Ancient

EXONUMISTS

CURRENCY — United States

CURRENCY — Confederate and Obsolete

Listings will appear in alphabetical order under the various classifications.

Please give your A.N.A. number in your letter of transmittal — along with your check in the amount of $50.00 made payable to the A.N.A. and mail to:

*SPECIAL OFFER TO A.N.A. MEMBERS ONLY. (See below)

To preserve, beautify and enhance the value of your coins, we recommend and offer

Our own product, unequalled for cleaning coins, particularly useful on coins of copper or nickel. Easy to use, rapid and economical. In stores a 4-oz. bottle is $1.00. The full 4-oz. bottle is now mailed anywhere in the U. S. or Canada for $1.00.

Our new product. Use it to restore the color of age to coins which have been cleaned. Introduced in 1962 and 15,000 bottles sold in four months. In stores the 4-oz. bottle is $1.00. The same bottle will be sent by mail for $1.00, postpaid in U.S. or Canada. "CCD" turns your coins brown, not black.

"CARE"

Recommended for conditioning and preserving coins. Improves appearance and protects against corrosion. The 2-oz. bottle will treat thousands of coins. In stores, $1.35 or by mail, postpaid in the U.S. or Canada, $1.50.

"JEWELUSTER"

We have ourselves used and recommended this dip for more than 12 years: principally for removing tarnish from proof and uncirculated silver coins (Commemorative halves, etc.). 5-oz. plastic jar is $1.00 in stores, or $1.25 postpaid in U. S. or Canada.

"V. M. CLOTH"

For "high-lighting" and improving appearance of badly worn coins. Valuable accessory when used according to directions. Price: 50¢, postpaid in the U.S. or Canada.

Send $4.75 for one each of "CCC," "CCD," "CARE" and "JEWELUSTER" (postpaid) and get the "V. M. Cloth" free.

When we say "postpaid" we mean carefully packaged to meet stiff postal requirements, and safe delivery guaranteed.

DEALERS' INTRODUCTORY OFFER: Get six bottles of "CCC" (4-oz.), "CCD," or "JEWELUSTER" for $4.00 postpaid, or six "CARE" for $5.40 postpaid. Order six each of the four accessories for $17.40 postpaid and receive six V. M. Cloths free.

COIN MEDALS . . .

The Magnificent Medals of Real Numismatic Interest

A series of beautifully sculptured, numismatically designed medals commemorating famous coin designers. The Augustus Saint-Gaudens and Victor D. Brenner medals, the first two in the COIN MEDALS series, are now ready for immediate shipment, and the Charles E. Barber medal will be ready in June.

COIN MEDALS are sculptured in very high relief on both obverse and reverse by master artist Robert Schabel, and quality struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York. The obverse of every COIN MEDAL depicts the finest medallion work of the artist being commemorated, and the reverse, as shown above, symbolizes his work in coins.

COIN MEDALS are issued in bronze, and in a serially numbered pure silver issue not to exceed 5000. Each medal is three inches in diameter, and weighs close to a half-pound in silver, so they are not to be confused with ordinary coin size medals.

PRICES OF COIN MEDALS

The Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal: Bronze, $5.50, or.....2 for $10.00
in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case.....$35.00
The Victor D. Brenner Medal: Bronze $5.50, or.....2 for $10.00
in serially numbered pure silver, in velvet lined case.....$30.00

Each medal is accompanied by descriptive folder.

SPECIAL, above two medals in silver with SAME SERIAL NO....$62.50

PLASTIC HOLDER AS ILLUSTRATED is $7.00. Other holders; single holder, for medal only $4.00; double holder, shows obverse and reverse of medal, $7.00.

Buyers of the Saint-Gaudens medal are assured they can obtain all future medals with the SAME SERIAL NUMBER for a more-valuable matched set, at the issue price of $30.00. You need send only a $10.00 payment now, your order will be acknowledged with your RESERVED SERIAL NUMBER, then pay $10.00 or more a month and each medal beginning with the Saint-Gaudens will be shipped as soon as paid.

We are still buying and sellings coins, Half Cents to Gold, Paper Money, Commemorative Half Dollars, etc. For the best prices buying or selling, write us.

PAPER MONEY OPPORTUNITIES

Some people think that interest in paper money lags far behind that in coins. To some extent that may be true. However, the wise collector watches and buys in relatively inactive fields before interest in them zooms.

Here are some attractive, quality offerings for discriminating, forward-looking collectors.

UNITED STATES FRACTIONAL CURRENCY COLLECTION

The collection consists of over 130 pieces of all issues, including first issue with plain and perforated edges, many varieties and rarities, such as Friedberg Nos. 1299, 1300, 1314, 1357, 1367, 1370; also some varieties he does not list. Except for some strips and blocks with folds, almost without exception the notes are in crisp, uncirculated condition. The notes are in transparent envelopes in a 14-ring binder album.

CONFEDERATE TREASURY NOTE COLLECTION

An outstanding assemblage of sixty-nine notes representative of every type issued, including all four Montgomerys in unsurpassed condition, the rare $5 "Indian princess" and the $10 Liberty, shield and eagle notes unusually fine, and most of the other notes extra fine to uncirculated. The notes are in transparent envelopes in a 14-ring binder album. This is a rare, if not unique opportunity to secure such a complete museum-quality collection.

Detail information on the above collections can be furnished in response to serious inquiries.

CONFEDERATE TREASURY NOTE SPECIALS

Order by Item number, remit by check or money order.

Have you a copy of my book, Confederate Treasury Notes? If not, I still have copies available for $5.00 postpaid, including my handy Cross Index and Summary. The 148 pages in the book are packed with information on these notes of the Confederacy.

It is unequalled for its logical, flexible system of listing and common sense classification into types, major varieties and minor ones. It is the only fully illustrated book with detail information on varieties, watermarks, plate letter-numbers, variants, counterfeits, bogus notes and control stamps.

Message to the serious Numismatist and Collector of United States Gold coins:

It is our opinion that this phase of collecting has been the "peak" of all Numismatics, and that it will continue to be so.

The person who thus recaptures the "golden" era of our great country by trying to assemble a collection of gold coins by date and mint mark — that person is truly building a museum of pleasure and accomplishment. He is able to invest wisely the most dollars in the least amount of space. He is able to know that his coins will never be restruck. His coins will never be released in tremendous quantities because of changes in federal or bank regulations. He is in the zenith of Numismatics.

To justify our faith in the future and soundness of collecting gold coins, we have recently purchased for cash the tremendous collection of duplicate coins from the BELL ESTATE. Mr. J. F. Bell, deceased, had assembled one of the outstanding gold collections of the century.

If you have a want list on gold dollars, quarter eagles, threes, half eagles, eagles or double eagles, we would be pleased to give it our prompt and serious attention.

If you have never started a collection of U. S. gold coins, but have considered it time and time again — may we suggest that it is not too late. Begin now to build your Numismatic likes centered around our glorious "GOLDEN ERA."

We have two very knowledgeable persons, among our staff of ten, who specialize in this field. They are Mr. David Shapiro and Mr. Ben Dreiske. Either one would deem it a pleasure to be of service to you.

MAKES COPPER, SILVER, OTHER COINS
BRILLIANT INSTANTLY . . . Safe for proof coins

CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"Of all the coin cleaners on the market, 'Brilliantize' works best on my coins." — Springfield, Massachusetts.

"BRILLIANTIZE . . . keeps copper coins B. Unc. for years. It has preserved 98% of my B. Unc. coins . . . Collectors appreciate coins when they are kept in mint state through using BRILLIANTIZE." — Kentucky.

"Your product was recommended by a collector (who is a chemist) as the best on the market." — California.

"BRILLIANTIZE all sold out the first day." — N. Y.

Our free booklet on care and cleaning of coins is included in each kit. Among its authors is one California coin club president and also the late Burton Saxton who was a leader in the A.N.A.

Each kit consists of a booklet of instructions, applicators, a bottle of No. 1 Brilliantize which removes tarnish instantly and a bottle of No. 2 Brilliantize which makes the brilliancy long lasting. No. 2 Brilliantize also cleans very dirty and spotted coins. Brilliantize kits are complete, compact, well-sealed and very convenient to use. There is nothing more to buy.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

EXPERIMENTAL PIECES

These reflect the fact that during the fall of 1863 the Treasury was having trouble devising a kind of paper which would be both durable and difficult to counterfeit, in addition to showing up well both to black and colored inks and the bronze overprinting. Valentine says that as many as ten different kinds of paper were experimented with. These experimental pieces, so far as we have been able to learn, were not sold regularly to the public. All are very rare. All those below stenciled twice and stamped SPECIMEN unless otherwise noted. Second issue only.

No. 183 5¢ Revs. only. Light brown, no bronze 5, fine bond paper. V205? .....	65.00
No. 188 10¢ Rev. only. Surcharges large 10, 18 63 and T 1; blank obverse with bronze oval. Creamy white paper, thin with long yellow fibres. V234....	65.00
No. 189 25¢. Obsv. only. No bronze oval; printed on thin yellowish cardboard, without fibres. Not in Valentine; doubtless exceedingly rare.....	85.00
No. 200 50¢. Obv. blank, but with bronze oval. Rev. blank, but large 50 and 18 63 surcharges — the 63 blundered, actually an inverted 39. Very thin hard finish paper. Uncancelled, no SPECIMEN. Not in Valentine.....	75.00

The above from Fractional Currency Brochure which also contains regular issues, uniface specimens of adopted types, uniface wide margin proofs and essays. Available from most dealers. A valuable reference. Price $2.00.

BRITISH COLONIES

Many Collectors are now entering the Foreign field. If this applies to you, we offer an excellent opportunity to acquire at a reasonable figure a fine group of 17 British Colonial coins, which are so popular today. These consist of: North Borneo, Bombay, Sarawak, Straits Settlements, India, Hong Kong, Australia, Ceylon, Guernsey, Jersey, Fiji, Madras, Bengal, East Africa, West Africa, Palestine and Sumatra. These will be mostly the obsolete coinage, some dating back to the early 1800's, and will be Very Good to Very Fine or Better.
